Prisoners Ask To Fight Reds

STILLWATER, Minn. (AP)—A group of Stillwater State Prison inmates want to fight in Viet Nam, and they've asked Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey to do something about it.

"Cons want a chance to prove themselves," said one inmate, William Aird.

"Besides that, they know how to fight dirty."

Aird and Willard LaJunesse, another inmate, said they took a poll of 42 prisoners, and 38 said they'd be willing to enter the service.

The convicts wrote Humphrey and the chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, asking them to allow prisoners to go to Viet Nam and fight in separate units.

"The state of Minnesota alone could furnish an entire battalion made up of cons," said the letter as reported by the Prison Mirror, the inmate newspaper.

"Why should 17-year-old kids, kids going to college and young married men have to fight a war when us cons are willing to do the job for them?"

Warden Ralph Tahash said a similar request by Massachusetts state prison inmates was rejected recently, "but if the answer were yes, it would be an interesting experiment."

In Minneapolis, meanwhile, the first patrolman in the city to be drafted since the Korean War has received his induction notice, according to Police Inspector Donald Dwyer.

He is David L. Weitzel, 25, a married policeman without children. The Selective Service ruled recently that police with the rank of patrolman and without special skills are to be considered non-essential.

FBI Arrests Dropout in $30,000 Threat

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A 17-year-old high school dropout from Royalton is accused of seeking $30,000 by threatening the lives of the four children of former St. Paul lawyer T. Eugene Thompson.

The youth, whose name was not disclosed because of his age, was held in $10,000 bail after appearing before U.S. Commissioner Bernard Zimpher in Minneapolis Thursday night on an extortion charge.

Assistant U.S. Atty. Sidney P. Abrahamson said the boy was captured at an outdoor toilet near Royalton Thursday a few minutes after an agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation had left $30,000 at the structure.

Eight Dead in Green Bay Fire

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Eight persons died today as an early morning fire destroyed the old three-story Astor Hotel in downtown Green Bay.

Thirty other guests escaped, several of them after being trapped for three hours in their rooms. Four of those rescued were hospitalized for smoke inhalation.

The flames were extinguished about 7 a.m., and wrecking crews were summoned to begin taking down the ruins as soon as firemen finished their perilous task of removing bodies.

First of the victims to be identified was Mrs. Edna Colle, 38, of nearby Luxemburg, Wis.

The fire was reported at 12:30 a.m. Firemen, coated in ice, battled the flames in 15-degree cold and snow flurries. The roof fell in and the walls of the brick structure buckled as flames shot 60 feet above the roof.

Firemen said the blaze apparently began in the rear of the first or second floor and worked its way up to the roof, where it traveled the length of the building.

Cause of the fire was not determined. Fire Chief Dave Zuidmiller placed a tentative estimate of damage at $150,000. He was at Madison, some 150 miles away, when notified of the blaze, but raced back here.

Mrs. Colle was identified by her husband, Peter, and a daughter, by means of a locket on her clothing. They said it was her custom to spend Thursday nights bowling in Green Bay, staying overnight at a hotel and working during the day as a waitress. Luxemburg is about 15 miles from Green Bay.

Three of the injured persons were rescued, after spending three hours in their rooms while flames crackled through the hotel.

At least six persons climbed to safety from windows in front of the hotel.

Firemen found an elderly man lying in a second-floor corridor when they entered the hotel some three hours after the fire began. He was taken to St. Vincent Hospital with other victims, whose conditions were not learned at once.

Also hospitalized for observation was a youth in his late teens or early 20s.

HEDY SAYS SHE'LL NEVER ACT AGAIN . . . Actress Hedy Lamarr tells a news conference at her home in Hollywood: "I will never act again." She had just been fired from her first starring role in 15 years. The new misfortune came just a week after the onetime glamour siren was arrested on suspicion of shoplifting. (AP Photofax)

Hedy Sorry About Loss of Film Role

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I was so tired from sleeping only one hour in four days. I just sort of collapsed for a day. That's human, isn't it?"

Thus actress Hedy Lamarr.

Sen. Mansfield Moves Toward T-H Showdown

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana filed today a cloture petition calling for an end to the filibuster against the union shop bill.

The petition was signed by 22 Democrats and one Republican, Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y. It brings a vote automatically next Tuesday on the debate-limiting procedure.

Mansfield said Thursday that if this attempt fails he planned to file another petition Tuesday. This would trigger a second cloture vote Thursday.

The filibuster, now in its 11th day, has blocked Mansfield's efforts to bring before the Senate a bill to repeal Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley law.

exotic star of the 1930s and 1940s, explained her absence from work, which resulted in her firing Thursday from her first starring role in 15 years.

It was not, said producer Bert I. Gordon, because of her arrest last week on suspicion of shoplifting $86 in goods from a department store.

Miss Lamarr was replaced in "Picture Mommy Dead" by Zsa Zsa Gabor, Gordon said.

Explained Gordon: "The only remaining scenes are those in which she (Miss Lamarr) appears. I have great admiration for Miss Lamarr as an actress and as a woman, but with a million-dollar budget, the people financing the picture will not allow me to gamble further on possible delays."

Gordon said he learned Miss Lamarr was hospitalized for nervous exhaustion Wednesday when he sent a studio car to pick her up.

"I just needed a good night's sleep," Miss Lamarr told newsmen at her Hidden Valley home. "Should one day's sleep upset them that much? Don't you think a life is more important than technicalities?"

The actress, 51, is due for arraignment on a petty theft charge Feb. 9. She has denied stealing anything.

'Ho Hum' Roseau's Answer to 34 Below

ROSEAU, Minn. (AP)—This northwestern Minnesota village was the nation's coldest spot today but the situation evoked a "ho hum" attitude and little complaining.

The mercury bobbed to 34 below zero in Roseau this morning. Folks hereabouts, however, are used to cold winters and everything and everyone functioned normally.

Carl Grant, village power plant superintendent, said the diesel engines were generating electricity for the village just as they do every day, summer or winter. Water, unfrozen, continued to flow through the mains and into homeholders' faucets. School classes went on as usual.

In short, no hardship or trouble was reported.

"It's just another cold day here," said Grant. "There's no storm or anything to cause any trouble."

The Weather Bureau said Roseau's 34 below was the coldest reading in the 48 contiguous states.

Plane Carrying 133 Crashes at Tokyo

TOKYO (AP)—A Japanese airliner with 133 persons crashed into Tokyo Bay Friday night in what could be the world's worst aviation disaster involving a single plane.

An airline spokesman, reporting the recovery of three bodies, said there was no sign of survivors.

All-Nippon Airways (ANA), operators of the three-engine Boeing 727, announced two rescue boats picked up the bodies and established that the plane had crashed into the bay. Until then there had been hope the plane might have escaped disaster. It had been listed as missing for more than five hours.

All aboard the plane were Japanese.

Shortly after midnight, five hours after the big jet vanished, a Japanese lighthouse ship reported spotting an airplane seat, a body and a book of life-saving instructions. A Japanese defense forces patrol boat sent word it had recovered part of a jet airliner wing.

The debris was reported six to eight miles from Tokyo International Airport, which is on the edge of the bay just south of the main part of Tokyo.

Villagers on the shore and a pilot of another plane reported seeing "a pillar of fire" rising from the bay at about 5 p.m., just when the airport lost contact with the incoming plane.

The plane was on a 600-mile flight from Chitose, northern Japan, to Tokyo. Almost all the 126 passengers had attended the city's annual snow festival. Seven crew members also were aboard the plane.

Weather was good when the plane disappeared. An airline official said the pilot had reported a malfunction in his instruments and that he would make a visual landing. He was given clearance. Seconds later contact was broken with ground control.

The plane was 18 miles from the airport when it vanished from radar screens.

For 2½ hours, search planes and patrol boats criss-crossed the bay. Then, wind and rain swept over the bay, forcing the planes to land.

The worst previous crash involving a single plane brought death to 130 persons aboard an Air France Boeing 707 jetliner near Paris on June 3, 1962. In the second worst, 129 U.S. servicemen died in June 1953, in another crash near Tokyo.

Tokyo Bay is 50 miles long and about 24 miles at its widest. Tokyo, Yokohama, Kawasaki, Yokosuka and Chiba all are on the bay.

The Japanese jetliner was one of three purchased from the Boeing company in May 1964.

The Boeing 727 is a short-to-medium range jet transport with three turbofan engines—one on each side of the rear fuselage and a third above the fuselage at the base of the T-shaped tail. In commercial use since February 1964, the 727 has a maximum cruising speed of 596 miles an hour and a maximum range of 3,110 miles.

Storm Rakes West Coast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A storm whisked rain inland along the West Coast today from San Francisco to Puget Sound, while parts of the Northeast remained snarled by a heavy blanket of snow.

The weather picture in the rest of the country was generally good, the Weather Bureau said.

The heavy snow coating was left behind earlier this week in the Northeast by the worst blizzard barrage in seven decades.

Cleanup toll continued, especially in central New York State where Oswego was overwhelmed by 102 inches of snow which left drifts piled as high as 30 feet.

Even as schools remained closed in the heavy snow area, the visitation's silver lining was recognized in expected abatement of the water shortage in part of the Northeast.

Lack of water for city reservoirs and in the soil has been an increasingly grave problem in the heavily populated quarter of the country.

Forecasters usually examine the possibility of flood threat from such heavy snowfall.

This worry was not absent, but the Weather Bureau also had this observation: The four-year drought which has plagued the Northeast had far more ominous consequences than a few days of misery caused by the blizzard. The one- to three-foot snowpack will add vital moisture to this parched area. The stored water will drain into depleted reservoirs and soak into parched soil when the thaw comes.

Water lack caused by a freeze-up of Ohio and Mississippi River sources slowed current in the big mainstream and brought heavy icing to the major transportation segment of the Lower Mississippi. Barge tows had rough going in shallow, ice-choked reaches of the Lower Ohio and the Mississippi south of Cairo, Ill.

2 Minneapolis Explosions Put Four in Hospital

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Four persons remained hospitalized today from two explosions that wrecked a south Minneapolis home and Columbia Heights commercial building.

Minneapolis Gas Co. said Thursday night it was investigating both blasts. The causes were not determined immediately, however.

One explosion and subsequent fire late Thursday destroyed the home of John Goodsell, buckling the walls and shattering windows of neighboring homes.

Goodsell, 36, remained hospitalized in serious condition today.

His wife, Shirley, 35, and their son John Jr., 5, were treated and released. Another son was not injured.

Five persons were injured earlier Thursday when an explosion and fire ripped a two-story brick building in Columbia Heights, scattering debris over a wide area.

Mrs. G. G. Meyers, 32, of Crystal remained in critical condition today with leg and back injuries.

She was among six persons trapped in a second-floor dentist's office by the fire. She went to a roof, then leaped about 15 feet to the ground with her son Peter, 3, in her arms. Others escaped the same way.

Peter Meyers was treated and released but another son, Joe, 5, remained hospitalized today in satisfactory condition.

Also hospitalized today was Dale Stephan, 32, a soft drink company truck driver. He was listed in satisfactory condition.

Fulbright Will Continue Quiz

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. J.W. Fulbright says "we are not trying to put on a circus" with the Senate hearings which will open today on the U.S. involvement in Viet Nam.

Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat who heads the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said "these public hearings will continue as long as they are fruitful."

He told newsmen witnesses will testify before his committee by invitation only.

Fulbright said there are no immediate plans to recall Secretary of State Dean Rusk to the stand, but added he would be "very surprised if the committee feels it is through questioning the secretary of state."

2 Weeks of Sunlight for More Photos

MOSCOW (AP)—Luna 9, the Soviet mechanical moon pioneer, has transmitted to earth pictures of the lunar landscape, Tass reported today.

The radiotelescopic observatory at Jodrell Bank, England, announced it had intercepted some of the pictures and that they were sensational. A spokesman said they showed rocks, a flat surface and the shadow of the space ship.

An announcement distributed by the official Soviet news agency gave no indication when the picture would be made public. It would be the first ever transmitted directly from the moon's surface to earth. Earlier Soviet and American pictures were sent from spacecraft above the moon.

Luna 9 "has begun scanning the lunar landscape and transmitting it to the earth's surface," the announcement said.

The space vehicle landed Thursday in an area of the moon that will be in direct sunlight for almost two weeks. This would permit a number of pictures to be sent, if Luna 9 continues working properly and sunlight can power its batteries.

The announcement, made 20 hours after Luna 9's landing, said "transmission of the lunar landscape was carried out on command from earth."

Before this announcement, the Russians had been characteristically silent about information received from the mechanical pioneer sitting on the plain named the Ocean of Storms, though the British Radio Observatory at Jodrell Bank said Luna 9 had transmitted radio information and pictures.

The official Soviet news agency Tass said: "Radio contact with the station on the surface of the moon is reliable. Transmissions are on 183.538 megacycles. The instruments on board the station are functioning normally."

There was no official word on the size, shape, construction or weight of the spacecraft but it is thought to weigh more than 3,000 pounds.

Jodrell Bank said Luna 9 transmitted facsimile pictures from its landing at 9:45 p.m. Moscow time (1:45 p.m. EST) until 10:05, went off the air, and resumed signals shortly after midnight (9 p.m. EST). The British scientists had no means of unscrambling the signals.

Congratulations from heads of states around the world started to pour into Moscow as soon as the landing was announced.

"Your accomplishment is one that can benefit all mankind and all mankind applauds it," said President Johnson in a message to President Nikolai Podgorny.

Experts could not agree whether Luna 9's soft landing put the Soviet Union ahead of the United States in the space race generally or only in a particular phase. The United States expects to make its first try for a soft landing in May.

Sir Bernard Lovell, director of the Jodrell Bank observatory, said the feat "puts the Russians ahead in the space race."

U.S. space officials at Cape Kennedy, Fla., praised the Soviet success and conceded it gave the Soviets a lead in this phase of the race to put a man on the moon.

The Soviets were the first to crash-land a rocket on the moon in September 1959. The following month they sent a space station around the moon that sent back photographs of its far side, never before seen by man.

The United States also crash-landed a picture-taking satellite on the moon, but not until July 31, 1964. This was Ranger 7 which sent back the most complete series of pictures taken of the moon.

Rolvaag Asks More Funds For Education

HIBBING, Minn. (AP) — Gov. Karl F. Rolvaag called Thursday night for "an expansion of the state education budget, an expansion which must go forward on many fronts."

The governor, touring north-eastern Minnesota schools, said there is "terrible unevenness" in educational quality among different schools.

In remarks prepared for a Hibbing dinner, Rolvaag talked as though he intends to be in office to present the problem to the 1967 Legislature.

The whole educational complex must be sifted for efficiency, he said. Rolvaag said one starting place would be the present system of school districts, many too small to support good programs.

"We cannot afford the luxury of uneconomical, outmoded autonomies," he said.

The governor also suggested full-scale discussions into the possibility of combining junior colleges and vocational-technical schools where both exist in one area.

He cited Willmar as an example where the two operate successfully under one roof, although they remain administratively separate.

"We have eliminated the differentiation between the trade school for the blue collar students and the collegiate institution for the white collar," Rolvaag said.

Rolvaag and his tour party will visit Hibbing Junior College, Floodwood High School and the Cromwell School today before returning to the Twin Cities.

La Crosse Buses Get Authority to Increase Fares

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The La Crosse Transit Co. was granted Public Service Commission authority Thursday to increase its fares.

Effective immediately, adult token fares will go from the present five for $1 to four for 90 cents. The commission said the increase is subject to hearing after a trial period of not less than 90 days.

The transit company said that the fare increase was needed to meet rising operating costs. It said operating expenses will increase about $13,000 for 1966 compared with last year.

Luther Camp Tract Expanded

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special) — The Rev. Mark M. Ronning, pastor of Living Hope Lutheran Church, has announced that the Luther Bible Camp Corporation has voted to purchase a 320-acre tract of land near Birchwood for $8,000.

Luther Park, which has operated a camp near Chetek since 1932, will continue the use of Chetek camp for junior high conference camping. Senior high campers will use the Chetek camp as a base camp, but will do considerable camping at the new site.

Tentatively called "Outpost," the 320 acres are bordered by 12,000 acres of county forest land, which will be available for hiking and exploring. The Outpost land itself contains two lakes, open land, rolling hills and wooded areas.

Living Hope congregation is a member of the corporation; Rev. Ronning is on the board of directors. Two years attendance at Luther Park is a requirement for each pupil in Living Hope's confirmation classes, with half of each youth's cost paid. The Luther Park Corporation is comprised of 130-member congregations from the Eau Claire, Mondovi and Rice Lake conferences of the American Lutheran Church. Family tent and trailer camping will be promoted, according to Rev. Ronning.

"Plans are not complete for the use of Outpost," Rev. Ronning said, "but now we have the land with which to make plans."

Burglar Takes Television Set

ST. PAUL (AP) — Fred J. Pizinger and his wife, Judith, were in bed Thursday night when they heard a key turn in their front door.

Pizinger went into the living room to investigate. He found a man clutching Pizinger's television set.

"What are you doing," Pizinger inquired.

The man said he was the apartment building manager and had come to investigate a plumbing leak. He told Pizinger to check the bathroom.

Pizinger complied.

When he returned to the living room, the stranger was gone. So was the television set.

Medicare at Lake City

Two District Court Cases Now Settled

Two cases with relatively small amounts of money at stake have been settled out of District Court, it was learned today.

Two subcontractors on the St. Mary's College gymnasium job consented to dismissal of mechanic's liens against the building after receiving payment for their services which satisfied them.

DANIEL F. Przybylski, 636 W. Lake St., settled his dispute with an insurance company over whether he was entitled to compensation under a "perils of the sea" clause in the policy protecting his houseboat.

Przybylski's houseboat sank while docked in a local harbor during a heavy snowstorm Nov. 19, 1957. He asked $8,491 from defendant Home Insurance Co. under terms of the $15,000 insurance policy which protected his boat from "perils of the sea."

Home Insurance had answered that Przybylski's complaint did not cite any specific peril covered under the insurance policy and that the plaintiff was not, in fact, covered against generalized "perils of the sea."

Terms of the settlement were not disclosed. Attorney M. J. Galvin Sr., St. Paul, represented Przybylski, and Attorney Richard H. Darby represented the insurance company.

THE LIENS against the St. Mary's gymnasium were dismissed by consent of Donald B. MacNeal Inc., Chicago, and Harold Anderson Crane Service, Willmar, Minn., in exchange for a "valuable consideration." Exact terms of the settlement were not disclosed.

MacNeal had alleged it was due $4,092, and Anderson had claimed nonpayment of $2,028 allegedly due him. Both were hired by a subcontractor to P. Earl Schwab Co., 74 Kansas St., which built the gymnasium.

The subcontractor—Koppers Co. Inc., a Delaware corporation—agreed, in a contract signed with Schwab Feb. 22, 1965, to pay any judgments which might be won by MacNeal or Anderson from either the college or Schwab.

Attorney Milton A. Goldberg represented MacNeal; Attorney Leo F. Murphy Jr. represented the college; Attorney C. Stanley McMahon represented Schwab, and the Willmar firm of Hulstrand, Langsjoen and Anderson represented Anderson Crane.

$75,000 Damage In Duluth Fire

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — Fire officials today were seeking to determine the cause of a five-alarm blaze that swept the Ransied Building on Duluth's west side Thursday.

Firemen estimated damage at more than $75,000. The blaze left the two-story building a shell, destroying six apartments, a number of commercial establishments and the law office of City Councilman Leo McDonnell.

It was feared for a time that the building's walls might topple onto Western National Bank, across the street, and the bank was evacuated. Civil Defense workers and firemen knocked down two walls of the wrecked building after the blaze.

Twenty-five off-duty firemen helped regular Duluth and Superior, Wis., firemen fight the blaze.

PLAINVIEW FARM BUREAU PLAINVIEW, Minn. (Special) — The Plainview Farm Bureau will hear a report of the Farm Bureau state convention Feb. 9, at the Lester Christison home, with a noon pot-luck luncheon before the meeting. Fred Ellinghuysen will present a hobby display. Mrs. Leo Siebenaler and Mrs. Ronald Reed are in charge of the luncheon.

B Honor Roll: Elizabeth Semling and Jennie Trochta, 3.8.
Diane May, Patti Moravec, Terri Raciti, Paula Speltz, Marilyn Svoboda, Nicholas Thurne and Mary Vail, 3.6.
Kathy Kowalewski, Joseph Richardson, Maureen Seebold, Diane Suchamel, John Wildenborg and Kathleen Wooden, 3.4.
Valerie Joswick, Diane Kujak, Paul Mohrari, Kevin O'Brien, Mary Seebold and Kathy Speltz, 3.2.
Gerald Kammerer, and Nancy Mueller, Susan Sievers and Jane Wiczorek, 3.0.
B Average Honor Roll: Sherrie Foster, Debra Spiten and Debra Wise, 3.2.
Michael Bundy, Colleen Casey, Sharon Czaplewski, Edward Hoepfner, Roger Janikowski, and Jack Krage, 3.0.

Sunday Activities Banned at Blair Public School

BLAIR, Wis. (Special) — Blair Board of Education has banned Sunday activities at the public school.

With the resolution, passed Wednesday, is a statement that the ban is not intended to prohibit certain community or cultural activities that might be scheduled on Sunday.

Members scheduled a special meeting for next Wednesday to review more building plans with the welfare committee of Blair Education Association.

The board voted to share with the city the expense of maintaining the park lighting system.

Other matters discussed were the new parking lot on the north side of the gymnasium. The board requested that all staff members and student drivers park there.

After a discussion by Principal Alan Peters, the board authorized the school to order 15 students tickets for the final day of the state basketball tournament.

The citizens advisory committee, set up in December and to be activated after the first of the year, was discussed, but no official action concerning it was recorded.

Donald Jacobson, administrator mentioned the possibility of further cooperation with neighboring school districts for special education programs.

A decision on Jacobson's contract was postponed. The board discussed proposed federal projects.

Our Saviour's Church Elects

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — Officers elected or re-elected and who have been installed at Our Saviour's Lutheran Church are: Nels Erickson, president; Miss Mayme Hallingstad, secretary; Charles O. Johnson, treasurer, and Alvin S. Windue, financial secretary of the congregation and treasurer of the Improvement Fund.

The election was held at the annual meeting Wednesday evening. Named to the board of trustees were: Donald Pearson, to succeed himself for a 3-year term, and Peter Speerstra Jr., also to succeed himself for a 3-year term. Holdovers are Fred Gardner, Arnold Olson, Fred Guse, John Hennrickson, Glen C. Olson and Roger Erickson.

Elected to deacons were Erling Hanson, to succeed Morris Everson who had served two terms and was ineligible for re-election; Mrs. Carsten Linnerud and Willie Johnson, to succeed themselves for three-year terms. Holdovers are Verl Hansen, Mrs. Clarence Briggs, Sylvia Olson, Harland Schaefer and Robert Nehring.

Dale Rusch was elected to succeed James Olson for a three-year term on the board of education. Holdovers are Mrs. Marvin Olson and Orrin Evenson, Miss Stella Windue and Peter Bieri. Truman Olson, Harry Jackson and Mrs. Hensel Nelson were elected to the nominating committee. Two other committee members will be selected from the boards of trustees and deacons.

A budget of $58,798.00 was adopted for 1966. This includes $15,855 for the world missions; $17,528 for pastoral ministry; $3,640 for worship and service, and $11,775 for the church and Sunday school building, the latter cost also including the salaries of the custodian, financial secretary, office secretary and organist.

Duluth Firm Gets Big Navy Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $7.6 million Bureau of Naval Weapons contract to Litton Systems, Inc., has been awarded for airborne naval computer set components to be produced at Duluth, Minn., and Salt Lake City, Utah, congressional sources reported Thursday.

Daily News to Have 10-Part Math Series

Parents who remain baffled by their youngsters' homework in the "Modern Math" studies offered in most Winona classrooms will be interested in a 10-part series starting in Monday's Winona Daily News.

Prof. W. F. Lloyd of the University of Tampa offers 10 easy-to-understand lessons for parents and interested adults in the system that explains "why" as well as "how" math problems are solved.

An old hand at explaining "Modern Math," after special studies at Auburn University, Prof. Lloyd will be referring to the Addison-Wesley mathematics text, used in Rochester public elementary schools.

Don't miss Prof. Lloyd's Monday-through-Friday articles explaining "Modern Math," during the next two weeks. They start Monday in the Daily News.

Contractors Name Follman President

Winona Contracting Construction Employers Association elected Robert Follman, Best Electric Co., 1966 president at the annual election and banquet Thursday night at Williams Annex. Fifty-one members and guests attended.

Other officers elected: Howard Keller, Keller Construction; vice president; Hubert Joswick, East End Coal & Oil Co., secretary; Evan Davies, Dunn Blacktop Co., treasurer, and directors, William H. Galewski, Winona Heating & Ventilating Co., and William Weaver, Rollingstone. They will serve two-year terms.

Bruce McNally was appointed to fill the unexpired directorship of Howard Keller, which was automatically vacated upon Keller's election to office.

Paul Mrachek, Mrachek Decorators, is outgoing president. Arnold J. Mayer was chairman of the nominating board.

MOVIE AT ELEVA

ELEVA, Wis. — A series of motion pictures on the "Life of St. Paul" is being shown weekly at Eleva Lutheran Church. The episode in St. Paul's life entitled "Return to Jerusalem" will be shown Wednesday at 8 p.m. It tells of Saul's return to Jerusalem after his escape from Damascus, how the disciples are still distrustful of Saul's intentions, and how John Mark, a young disciple, saves Saul's life.

The Rev. Calvin Larson, who has acclaimed the series as outstanding, extended a welcome to all in the vicinity to attend.

Merit Testing Set at 2 Schools

National Merit Scholarship qualifying tests will be given to about 150 students at Winona Senior High School and Cotter High School Feb. 26.

The examination, administered to high school juniors, is a 2½-hour test of educational development and is the first step in the 12th annual competition for four-year Merit scholarships. All students who wish to be considered for Merit scholarships to be awarded in 1967 must take the qualifying test on this date.

The Rev. Paul E. Nelson, Cotter principal, said that about 60 students are expected to take the test beginning at 9 a.m. in the Cotter library.

At Senior High School, Lewis Schoening, director of guidance and counseling, said that between 80 and 90 usually take the examination there.

Boy Scout Courses To Begin Monday at Central Fire Station

Classes for Boy Scout firemanship and first aid merit badges are scheduled to begin Monday at 7 p.m. at the Central Fire Station, it was announced today.

All Scouts who have registered for the course must attend the first class. Fireman instructors are: Edward Kohner, Malcolm Becker, Richard Osborne and Joseph Kowalsky. The Central Fire Station is at East 3rd and Laird streets.

Newsman Calls Communist Split Major Factor Today

World communism's transformation from a single force into three competing spheres is one of present-day history's outstanding facts.

There are no deadlier conflicts than those among communists themselves, a College of Saint Teresa lecture audience was told Thursday by Harrison Salisbury, a New York Times editor and expert on Russian affairs.

TODAY communism is divided into groups made up of Russia and its satellites, China and its adherents and a loose confederation of "liberation" movements, mostly in Africa, he explained.

The challenge presented to the free world today by communism is more complex than that of a few years ago, he said. Up to the time of Stalin's death, communism confronted the world as a seemingly unitary, monolithic threat, dedicated to overthrow of all other societies.

In the 15 years after World War II, the policy of containment, "as effective and intelligent a policy as we have ever had," rebuffed communism in Persia, Greece, Turkey, Berlin and Korea, Salisbury stated.

Difficult as it is for Americans to accept, communism today is "split asunder; I doubt that it will ever come together again," asserted the speaker.

Its internal conflicts are even more deadly than the historical religious schisms and almost impossible of resolution, he believes.

THE ENMITY between Russia and China is real, said Salisbury, who saw evidence of open antagonism in the border areas of Outer Mongolia. Chinese and Russian communists no longer speak the same language; they understand each other even less than we understand them. Illustrating the split further was a Chinese official's remark which called Soviet Russian and Yugoslavia "capitalist countries," Salisbury commented.

Confidential bulletins sent to Russian officials list more than 150 border incidents last year between Russian and Chinese forces, he said.

"This kind of attitude, propaganda and incidents were in the preliminary stages of every great war within the last 100 years in Europe. Incredible as it seems to Americans, the prospect of actual warfare between Russia and China is by no means as unlikely as it was five years ago. It is not inevitable. But if they continue on the present collision courses they will come to armed conflict," Salisbury predicted.

IMPELLING China to expansionism is its exploding population and its inadequate food supply. There 750 million people in China today and the total will pass one billion by 1975, Salisbury said.

Russia desires as much as we do to dampen the Vietnamese conflict, Salisbury said, although for different reasons. China, however, is inciting it as she attempted to aggravate the recent split between India and Pakistan. Russia stood with the U.S. in mediating the dispute, Salisbury noted.

Russian and Chinese actions respecting Viet Nam are dictated by their competition for influence there, not by concern for anyone else, Salisbury said.

AFTER 50 years in power, Russian communists have become "conservative, even a little paunchy. They like automobiles, leisure and the consumer economy. They aren't so eager to leap to the barricades any more but are content with their stability," Salisbury said.

China, motivated by harsh economics, has made all Asia unstable. The liberation movement — which has appeared in Cuba, the Viet Cong and Africa — is emerging as a purely revolutionary force. These groups, having few resources, don't care about nuclear war as the Russians do, Salisbury asserted.

Their aims simply are to seize power in unstable governmental situations.

"Such fragmentation is a product of the enormous depolarization of world power in the last 40 years. Today there are many sources of power. The Communist world has disintegrated as an entity. Rumanians, Poles and Hungarians are struggling back toward the western world. Albania remains an anomalous ally of China. There may be neutral Communist nations standing above these struggles.

"MANEUVERABILITY therefore must be at the heart of all American policies. There can no longer be any automatic responses because each situation will be different. If we depend only on the old automatic responses, we may find ourselves firing at allies as well as enemies. There will be situations where Communists will be on both sides of questions.

In this latter part of the 20th century it is important for all of us to know, more sensibly and wisely, the nature of the world around us. It is changing and out of this change comes the challenge. If we can be ahead of this change, we can meet any challenge that arises.

"We shouldn't underestimate our own potential. We must remain flexible, keenly aware and vigilant. In this way we can cope with the challenge, which will be greater than ever before within the next 10 years."

IN A QUESTION period, Salisbury said Red China will soon be asked to join the United Nations but probably will refuse. It would be well to have China in the organization, he said, because by remaining out the Chinese intensify their isolation from the world and further distort their own viewpoints of conditions. This is what makes Red China so dangerous, he said.

Jury Indicts Wabasha Co. Deed Register

WABASHA, Minn. — Donald Duerre, 65, Wabasha County register of deeds 35 years, had no comment to make this morning when questioned about the federal indictment returned against him Thursday on four counts of defrauding the government on income tax returns.

A federal grand jury returned the indictment in Minneapolis for the years 1959 through 1962.

DUERRE is accused of reporting taxable income for $31,153 for the four years when it should have been $52,822, and of paying $6,352 in taxes when he should have paid $12,094. The register is paid on a fee basis rather than by salary.

Duerre said he runs an abstract business in addition to serving as register of deeds. He "supposed," he said, that the taxable incomes on which he was indicted included income from his abstract work.

ALSO indicted by a federal grand jury on tax charges was Gordon Goulet, 57, St. Paul, a tax accountant named by then-Gov. Elmer L. Andersen to the governor's advisory withholding tax committee in 1961. The committee helped the state set up withholding on income taxes.

Goulet is accused of failing to file federal income tax returns for the years 1959-62, when his total income is alleged to have been $87,400 and his taxes due $13,000.

Other persons indicted on federal charges Thursday are: Norbert Terlikowski, 28, and James Slawek, 33, both former Chicago policemen; Slawek's brother Edward, 36, and Norbert Derengowski, 31, Chicago, all charged with the January 1964 burglary of the Highland Postal Station in Minneapolis.

FRED L. Lichtfeldt, 38, Minneapolis, charged with assault against federal agents, unlawful sale and possession of narcotics. He was shot and wounded in a gun battle involving officers Jan. 19 in a Minneapolis parking lot.

Geraldine Cunningham, 68, formerly a Minneapolis school teacher, charged with income tax evasion. She is accused of reporting taxable income of $4,950 in 1959-61 when the figure should have been $5,300.

Wabasha Co. ASCS To Conduct Signups — Sign-up for 1966 ACP feed grain and wheat programs in Wabasha County will be Monday at Lake City American Legion Hall, Tuesday at Mazeppa City Hall and Wednesday and Thursday at Plainview City Hall, all from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The Wabasha County ASCS committee will conduct all sign-up sessions. Signups at the Wabasha ASCS office will be from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Friday.

FIRE PREVENTION AWARDS . . . Nine long-time Winona County conservation and fire prevention leaders were honored Thursday at the county fire warden's meeting. Nine Men Honored at Fire Warden Meet

The present success of small timber plots and of soil conservation practices in Winona County owes much to veteran fire wardens and natural resource specialists who years ago struggled to eliminate wild fires as a field cleaning process, set up a countywide warden program, and worked to educate local groups on conservation needs.

Wes Simons, Lake City, area fire control chief, Minnesota Division of Forestry, paid this tribute to nine men honored Thursday at the Winona County fire warden's meeting. About 80 persons attended the dinner and afternoon session at the Isaac Walton League cabin, Latsch Prairie Island Park.

HONORED were Marvin Shaw, 719 Main St., for work with wildlife and fire prevention practices; Clinton Dabelstein, Winona Rt. 1, for his efforts in establishing the fire warden program 24 years ago; C. P. Crawford, 360 Lincoln St., for work involving the volunteer fire warden program and conservation.

Herbert Speltz Sr., Rollingstone, community leadership in conservation and fire prevention organization; Brother Charles, St. Mary's College, promotion of fire protection and conservation of natural resources as a biology professor; Lyle Tainter, Winona Rt. 3, continued forest protection work;

George Hass, Houston, Winona County's current agricultural inspector, also president of Winona County Fire Fighters and fire equipment supervisor; John Staley, SCS conservationist and originator of the Winona County Fire Fighters group, and Wilfred Lauer, Winona, promoting fire prevention and forest management organization.

SIMONS emphasized that timber and woodland protection is more important now than in the past. Multiple use of wooded areas, for recreation, camping, hiking, nature studies, pulp wood and timber harvest all exist equally, he said.

He pointed out Minnesota's 19 million acres of forest averages to five acres per person, "and that's not much for all the uses each one can make of that for recreation and wood material used to make his life easier."

Robert L. Herbst, former executive secretary of Keep Minnesota Green and, as of Feb. 15, assistant commissioner of the Minnesota Department of Conservation, noted that the forest industry is worth $500 million annually to the state economy.

DISPLAYING a 3-inch bottle, he said, "15,000 seeds here in this bottle have the potential to grow a 20-acre forest. If you, as fire wardens, and all other citizens use good conservation, the contents of this bottle will someday be the source of more than 5,000 forest products, will control erosion, harbor wildlife, store water, offer shade, rest and aesthetic beauty."

Man depends on natural resources from soil, water and air for his livelihood and well-being, he said. Resources can only be maintained through conservation or "wise stewardship," he charged.

IF LABOR response continues this good, construction will begin March 1 and should be completed and in operation by July 15. This phase had been delayed until an accurate estimate of plant workers could be made. Had response been poor, construction would have been delayed until an adequate work force could have been available.

HATCHERY and feed supply operations are adequate for all planned expansion for two to three years, even if the processing growth moves like "wildfire," Whorton said.

Growers within a 50-75 mile radius of Altura have been contacted to determine farm capacity to produce the extra birds. Whorton indicated the farms have adequate expansion facilities.

HE HAS recently begun an area survey to determine whether the area can supply the added labor force for expansion. About 50 new employees will be

Rushford Man's Car Stolen at Rochester Store

RUSHFORD, Minn. (Special) — A rural Rushford man still was without his car at noon today. It was taken from the street outside the Miracle Mile in Rochester about 10 p.m. Thursday.

John C. Kahoun took his wife, their daughters, Joan and Luanne, Mrs. Norman Kopperud and daughter Diane to Rochester after school Thursday. They had purchased about $40 worth of clothes for the Elizabeth Kahoun - Dennis Atkinson wedding at Rushford Saturday and locked it in the trunk. Five minutes before they were ready to leave, Kahoun started the car to warm it and left it. When he and his passengers were ready to leave, the vehicle was gone.

Rochester police still hadn't found the 1963 Galaxie 500, champagne color, license MKC 407, this morning. Kahoun said some young lads were in the drugstore when he entered after turning on the motor, but were gone before he and his passengers left to go home.

Damage $1,020 In Four City Traffic Accidents

Four traffic mishaps Thursday afternoon caused $1,020 damage but no injuries, police reported.

Mrs. Edwin W. Grant, 1134 W. 4th St., and Chester J. Pagel, South St. Paul, were driving east on 5th Street at 2:20 p.m. when a collision occurred between them.

PAGEL MADE a left turn north onto Sioux Street as the Grant car attempted to pass on the left. Damage was $350 to the right front of the Grant car and $325 to the left rear of the Pagel vehicle.

A hit-run collision was reported by police at Huff and East Sarnia streets at 1:29 p.m.

Mrs. Arthur Moore, 1666 Gilmore Ave., told police that she was driving east on West Sarnia Street when a northbound vehicle on Huff Street struck the right rear of her car. The hit-run car continued north on Huff Street without stopping, she said. Damage to the Moore car was about $100.

Kenneth W. Schreiber, 18, 368 W. 4th St., was driving east on 5th Street at Junction Street at 9:35 p.m. when his car slid into the guard rail posts at the south edge of 5th. There was $45 damage to three guard rail posts and $100 damage to the front of the Schreiber car.

A TWO-CAR collision at Broadway and Junction Street at 2:30 p.m. occurred as John E. Aasen, Whitehall, Wis., drove east on West Broadway and G. Phil Foy, Denver, Colo., drove north on Junction Street.

Damage was $100 to the front of the Aasen car, but no damage estimate was available Friday morning for the left side of the Foy vehicle.

BREAK-INS Checked At Centerville, Trempealeau Clubs

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — Trempealeau County Sheriff Eugene Bjold, is investigating two break-ins which occurred Tuesday night.

About four cases of beer were stolen from the Centerville Curling Club and one case of beer from Olson's Vets Club, Trempealeau. In the Vets Club the drawers had been rifled but no money was missing.

Entrance to both establishments was made by breaking the lock off the back doors.

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — Members of the Chamber of Commerce voted to donate to the National Conference of Christians and Jews and to encourage participation in National Brotherhood Week Feb. 20-27. The action was taken at a meeting Wednesday night.

Kellogg Marine Wounded in Legs

KELLOGG, Minn. (Special) — Pfc. Donald Hager, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hager, rural Kellogg, has been wounded in Viet Nam.

He was on patrol near Da Nang and suffered fragmentation wounds in both legs when an unknown explosive device exploded.

He is now at the station hospital at Da Nang.

A 1965 graduate of St. Felix High School, Wabasha, he entered the U. S. Marine Corps June 30, 1965, and has been stationed in Viet Nam since Jan. 1.

His parents received the notification telegram Thursday.

Alma Center Man Pleads Innocent In Meat Case

NEW YORK (U) — Two Wisconsin men, indicted by a federal grand jury in connection with a horsemeat scandal, pleaded innocent Thursday in Federal Court to unlawful interstate transportation of unspectated meat.

Judge Sidney Sugarman released the pair on $5,000 bail.

They are Buster Lea, 53, Alma Center, and Thomas C. Barr, Cameron. Both were to return to court for motions Feb. 28.

Lea, a mink rancher, and Barr, a meat rancher, were charged with transporting four shipments of unspectated meat from Wisconsin to New York in 1964.

If convicted, Lea could receive an eight-year prison term and a $40,000 fine. Barr could get a maximum 6-year term and a $30,000 fine.

HINCK Installed As Lake City Chamber Head

LAKE CITY, Minn. (Special) — Herbert Hinck was installed new president of the Lake City Chamber of Commerce Monday night succeeding Dr. Robert Seberg.

Logan Johnson was elected first vice president and Thomas Kennedy, second vice president. Balloting was by mail and the votes were counted at the meeting.

Mrs. David McCormick is chamber secretary. The office was closed this week while she attended the state Chamber of Commerce executives' conference in Minneapolis.

News Easier To Get Now In Russia

A reported asked Harrison Salisbury, veteran reporter in the Soviet Union, whether it is easier today to work as a newsman in Russia.

Since censorship was abolished four years ago, Salisbury said, reporters can file their stories freely, either by telephone or by cable. While the Russians do not interfere with such transmissions they sometimes do expel a correspondent for filing stories which displease them, he added.

TRAVEL in Russia remains difficult and erratic, he said. Salisbury, who is fluent in Russian, finds ordinary citizens more willing to talk freely to foreigners today than when Stalin was alive. Government officials, however, are difficult to interview and hesitant to speak for the record.

Asked whether public opinion is a force in Russia, Salisbury replied that it has been heard and felt increasingly since censorship was relaxed.

Has the struggle with China diverted Russia from its old objective of communist domination of the world, or has this viewpoint moderated? Salisbury was asked.

RUSSIAN leaders, almost all of them older, are largely inclined to relax their efforts at world conquest, he said. Younger Russians, on the other hand, are totally disinterested in such domination. They are more interested in the good life, in learning the twist or in imitating capitalism instead of overthrowing it.

The war in Viet Nam has "mucked up the situation somewhat," said Salisbury. Aside from this there seems to be a growing community of interest between Russians and Americans, he said.

Evidence Suppression Asked in Fatality Case

Judge Arnold Hatfield took under advisement today the question of whether to suppress use of a beer bottle as evidence in the criminal negligence trial of Richard H. Brehmer.

Defense Attorney Daniel F. Foley argued that the bottle was illegally seized by city police the night of Sept. 3 as they investigated the accident at East 3rd and Carmona streets which proved fatal to Brehmer's passenger, Karen Lee Thilmany, 17.

ASSISTANT County Attorney Richard H. Darby told Judge Hatfield that police had not acted illegally in taking the beer bottle from Brehmer's car. Police could not follow the usual procedure of obtaining a search warrant or of arresting Brehmer because the youth was unconscious when they found him, Darby said.

Brehmer, 21, Plainview, Minn., was arrested Sept. 11, the day of his release from Community Memorial Hospital, and charged with criminal negligence in the girl's death.

Darby called four policemen to testify at the hearing this morning in District Court on Foley's motion to suppress evidence.

Patrolman Glenn M. Morgan testified that he had found Brehmer slumped over the wheel of his car, his arms dangling down between his knees. Brehmer's hands, Morgan said, were nearly touching a "junior-size" beer bottle that stood upright on the floorboard between his feet.

Morgan and Patrolman James L. Bronk testified that Brehmer did not respond to their questions concerning his condition. He had a pulse, however, they said. Morgan testified that he took the bottle from Brehmer's car and placed it in a patrol car.

CAPT. John H. Scherer testified that he took custody of the bottle after it had been tagged with a standard police property tag and that, next morning, he turned over the bottle to Sgt. George K. McGuire. McGuire acknowledged receipt of the bottle and said he had later delivered it to the county attorney.

It Happened Last Night Lena Horne Denies Rumors

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Whenever I want a cultural evening, I go to Carnegie Hall — and the other night as I gazed upon that hallowed stage where Toscanini and Bernstein have trod, I beheld Hairdresser-to-the Stars Ernie Adler combing out wigs and hairpieces upon the heads of numerous models . . . to piano accompaniment.

"Hairdressers have the power to take some of the ugliest women in the world and make them attractive," he said.

Lena Horne, one of the prettiest women in the world, and a friend, wore a wig so Ernie could use her as a model. Carol Burnett then strutted out in an exaggerated wig. A man in the audience called out, "What are you doing later?"

"What am I doing later?" echoed Carol. "What did you have in mind? Because whatever it is, the answer is yes."

Lena Horne, escorted by Jack Cassidy, denied the persistent rumors that she and husband Lennie Haydon are separating. "I'm going to Hollywood to join him," Lena said. "We have invested too many years and too much talent together to divorce. Unless," Lena said, "with a confident smile, 'he's keeping something from me — and if he is, I'll shoot him!'"

DANNY KAYE and wife Sylvia Fine pointed "Shame-on-you" fingers at me at 21 'cause I'd printed they'd split when they hadn't. . . . Ex-Mayor Wagner there at a political friend's dinner said, "I'm just keeping in touch" . . . Bob Hope fell in love with the sterling silver putter given to him by Fight For Sight and carried it on the plane to Chicago . . . Jill Haworth's new No. 1 fan: Christopher Plummer . . . Mimi Hines, who plays the Fanny Brice part so brilliantly, though she isn't Jewish, told me at Volin some of her friends refer to that hit show now as "Funny Guy."

Johnny Carson's supposed to be getting $45,000 for the two 3-day weekends he'll work at the Miami Beach Eden Rock Feb. 25-27 and March 4-6. . . . New White House Song: "Hail to the Chief" (Lew Klein) . . . That feud on the picture "The Group" started when there were only two make-up women for eight stars. One young gal said: "Let — go first, because she's the oldest and will take the longest time." After that it got worse.

GEMINIS (May 21 to June 20), be sure to heed Tarus the Bull, our favorite astrologist, who says during February don't take physical risks (like skiing, yachting, fighting with your wife or picking up a heavy tab) . . . John Irving Fields' revival of dance shows on TV ("Step This Way") is probably going to start a whole new surge of copy-cats emulating Gretchen Wyler's approach. (Oh, yeh, and Earl L. Wilson and Bob Renfield happened to write the music) . . . Sybil Christopher and her husband Jordan, in Spain for his first film, are getting great attention. Jordan's seen in turtlenecks and dark glasses. Nine months ago he was almost unknown . . . Reminds me of that new book by Stephen Vincer, "In Praise of Older Women," saying that in matters of amour, older women are far better than young.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: One actress was knocking another: "And she lies about her age. Why, she's been 29 two years longer than I have!"

A Texan was making out his will (reports Quote) and dictated: "To my son John I leave $3,000,000 — and he's lucky I didn't cut him off entirely!" . . . That's earl, brother.

Visitors Enjoy Miami Despite Cold Weather

MIAMI, Fla. — Tourists who come to Miami Beach for warm temperatures gallantly hit their disappointment today and said they were having a good time anyway.

Besides, they admitted, the weather is worse at home.

Even if the mercury dipped to a crisp 46 degrees Sunday morning, the visitors smiled and observed that the only ice in Miami was in cocktail glasses. And who needs warm weather to enjoy the nightlife, or have a friendly drink in the bar with new-found friends, or take an invigorating stroll along Collins Ave.?

And the only time there was a lull in the chatter was when a sweet young thing swished by in white lace hip huggers, her middle exposed to the elements.

"We're glad to be here," said Mrs. Wilner. "I talked to New York this morning and it's getting worse there. So much snow. What do we do? Why we sit around and talk and be happy. The card games are running and the bars are full."

She remembered with a hint of disdain the comment of another tourist who complained, "Why doesn't the management do something about this weather?"

Miami motorists will be starting their cars gingerly this morning and watching the temperature gauges to see if the engine is over-heating. Sunday forecasts of the freezing zone temperatures had suggested "protected radiators" for south as well as North Florida.

Experts suggested, if the cold continues, that efforts be made to "run the engine a little around midnight; put a piece of cardboard in front of the radiator, and point the nose of the car south."

Those with so-called "solar heating" systems were reminded to let the hot water tap dribble during the night to keep the water moving in the pipes to prevent its freezing.

more costly, or not quite as effective.

Voigt pointed out that sometime ago he had issued orders that no DDT was to be used by conservation department personnel on state lands and that he was reaffirming these orders. As the conservation department is responsible for insect control on forest lands, this is an indication of the importance given the problem. Research studies will be continued at an accelerated pace to determine the effect of DDT and its related forms on the breeding potential of fish in the state's waters.

Recently several communities in Wisconsin have decided to use the less persistent methoxy-chlor in such operations as control of Dutch Elm disease and Voigt pointed to River Hills in the Milwaukee area as an example of good conservation. He said, "Where there is a question as grave as this one as to which procedure to use, the conservative way is to take the one which will least upset the balance of nature."

Although authorities are not agreed as to what effect these chemicals may have on man, much more study is needed before there is absolute assurance of any serious effect, or of the lack of effect.

Recent studies by scientists have strongly indicated that DDT and similar chemicals used for the control of mosquitoes and other farm and forest pests have a tendency to remain in the soil or water until picked up by other plants and animals. These may be eaten by larger animals or birds. Each animal tends to increase the quantity in its body until the larger predators eventually get the biggest doses.

Large quantities of poison in fish-eating birds such as the osprey, eagle and gulls have been known to reduce breeding potential or even cause death. In a similar way, the robins and other birds which eat earthworms containing DDT often are killed.

Let's Get Growing

The Exotic Christmas Cactus
ALTHOUGH Christmas is long past, suppose we talk about the Christmas cactus, since several inquiries have been received in regard to it. This plant has been popular as a house plant ever since its introduction more than 100 years ago. Old plants may be considered as heirlooms, since they last for years and keep on increasing in size. Our plant is now 25 years old and measures 2 feet across.

This house plant is a species of cactus from Brazil with terminal branches that consist of flattened, glossy joints without spines. When in bloom the drooping branches are tipped with beautiful elongated flowers about two inches in length ranging in color from pink to rosy red and are very translucent. Since they usually commence to bloom just before the holiday season and continue into the late winter, they commonly go by the name of Christmas cactus. Our plant started to bloom the latter part of November and still has flowers along with some unopened buds.

THERE ARE many varieties and hybrids and this may account for the difference in blooming time, or erratic blooming, that is occasionally reported by some of our readers. If a Christmas cactus fails to bloom, or the buds drop off, and this may happen sometimes, the cause may be too high a temperature, or too much, or too little light, or too much water. It will bloom in the winter when the days are short, if kept in a room temperature of about 65 to 70 degrees. It should be kept fairly dry until the buds start to develop and then watered more liberally.

Since it is a tropical plant, it should have a fairly rich soil for best growth and flowering. The soil can consist of equal parts of good loam, or compost, and coarse sand. The soil should be loose enough so that the water will soak away rapidly when the plant is watered. Each watering should be thorough, permitting the soil to dry out between times. This cactus does not seem to require a large pot for good growth and bloom.

The large one we have is growing in an 8-inch pot. An occasional application of a liquid fertilizer will be of benefit. Good healthy plants are glossy green in color.

AN EXPLANATION - NO. 3

What Are Buildings Like in Renewal Area?

General deterioration, spread over a number of years, has been the foremost characteristic of downtown Winona, according to the planning report.

In some ways, the soundness of buildings has been a drawback. While times changed and new uses became needed, many sturdy buildings continued to stand. Their old-fashioned designs failed to accommodate uses that have changed dramatically since they were erected. Thus, in their present conditions they are blighting influences, states the document.

PROBLEMS have grown to the point where they are of great concern to much of the public, it states.

Four major public facilities occupy land within the planning area. Some are obsolescent; others are quite adequate and serviceable. They are City Hall, the county courthouse and jail, Levee Park and the junior-senior high school-public library complex.

The city building is adequate but is becoming outgrown, studies show. Expansion may be needed in the future as a result of city administration growth.

The courthouse is called "extremely obsolete." The jail is considered serviceable and its upgrading is feasible. County facilities should be kept in their present vicinities, planners recommend.

LEVEE PARK is "a pleasant place, but has little beneficial effect on the downtown business area. Extensive railroad trackage and deteriorating or obsolete buildings" tend to isolate the park from downtown.

School and library facilities are adequate for "many years of additional use." Addition of three to five acres (immediately north) to the school site would provide recreational areas now completely lacking, says the report.

Elimination of the National Guard armory is unconditional recommended because of "extensive deficiencies."

Reorientation of Levee Park to the downtown area and a varying range of improvements for City Hall, courthouse and school buildings should be incorporated into renewal projects, says the study.

BUILDING conditions for the whole planning area are appraised by planners as follows:

Total buildings	333
Total residential buildings	111
Total nonresidential buildings	222
Buildings with few or no deficiencies	16
Buildings with minor deficiencies	82
Buildings with extensive deficiencies	193
Buildings with extremely extensive deficiencies	42

Structures in the two lower categories are those which most logically should be cleared, says the study.

Only one block in the business core has a full and true value of more than $400,000, according to the survey. Three other fringe blocks have valuations of more than $400,000, one of which is the YMCA block, the report notes.

BLOCK VALUES . . . Showing comparative values of each block, this chart is drawn from figures available from the city assessor's department. The values are "full and true," which are one-third of what are considered actual market values by the assessor. Renewal of the area is expected to raise its total from $8 million at present to $15 million.

SERVING IN THE ARMED FORCES

Wave Completes Basic

LINDA MARIE CEBALLOS, daughter of Mrs. Alice Morpheus, Box 723 Winona, has completed 10 weeks of basic training at the Recruit Training Command (Women), U.S. Naval Training Center, Bainbridge, Md., and was graduated at a military review Jan. 28.

A graduate of Winona Senior High School, Airman Apprentice Ceballos is spending a 14-day leave with her mother here before reporting to the U.S. Naval Air Station, Memphis, Tenn., where she'll attend an aviation maintenance administrative school. She enlisted in the WAVES for three years Nov. 19 and prior to entering service was employed in the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service office here.

MARINE PVT. RONALD D. GIEMZA, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gienza, 614 E. 2nd St., was graduated from Marine recruit training recently at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif. He'll be assigned to land values in the residential area is high, according to the report, which reflects the low values of residential land. Careful thought should be given to these figures when renewal treatment is determined, the planners advise.

Co-op Creamery At Rollingstone Nets $14,235

ROLLINGSTONE, Minn. — Net earnings of the Rollingstone Co-operative Creamery Association in 1965 totaled $14,235.85.

The entire amount was credited to patron's equity, it was announced at the association's annual meeting Saturday.

Milk volume for 1965 was 30,928,875, an increase of 76,891 from 1964.

Milk and cream receipts totaled $1,103,546 paid to patrons.

Patron equities of $9,364 for 1960 were distributed after the meeting.

Eugene Kalmes, Rollingstone, was elected co-op president; Earl Russell, Altura, vice president; Herbert Speltz Jr., secretary-treasurer, and Leonard Kreidermacher, Minneka, and Richard Tews, Lewiston, directors.

Speakers were Millard Chab, Minnesota Department of Agriculture; Cliff Markuson, manager of the Minnesota American Dairy Association; Glenn Hasse, manager of the Plainview Co-operative Creamery, and Miss Jody Waldo, Winona County Dairy Princess.

DEAR ABBY:

Picks Sister's Wedding Day

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: There are 365 days in the year, right? So will you please tell me why my sister had to pick the day of MY wedding anniversary for HER wedding date? Don't tell me she forgot, because she was my maid of honor and she knew perfectly well that that was my wedding date.

Now all of my future wedding anniversaries will have to be shared with her. That just burns me up!

BURNED UP IN CLEVELAND

DEAR BURNED: Even though you are burned up, don't make an ash of yourself by voicing your disapproval.

DEAR ABBY: About four years ago my sister-in-law gave us an old beat-up baby bed that she'd had in her basement for ten years. My husband sanded it down, painted it and fixed it up like new, and we used it until our baby was four years old. Then we traded it along with a lot of other odds and ends on a new set of bedroom furniture for the child's room. My sister-in-law heard about it and demanded that we get the baby bed back for her. (She had no use for it, she just wanted to start trouble). Of course, by then it was too late. Well, she has a very big mouth, so she spread it all over the family and different ones took sides, and now there are lots of hard feelings. I admit I should have asked her before getting rid of it, but honestly, Abby, I had no idea she wanted it back. How can I patch up this mess?

ABBY

DEAR FAMILY: Ask her how much she thinks the bed was worth, and insist that she take the cash. Even if it's expensive, it will shut her big mouth, and that's worth something.

DEAR ABBY: One of my best friends has a heart as big as this world. She knows what it is like to be forsaken, so she has been attempting to provide a home for forsaken animals. How can I tell her tactfully that she cannot keep a house full of cats? Abby, the odor is indescribable. She works, the house is closed all day, the smell comes through the walls. The odor clings to her clothing. Whew! I am afraid she will lose her job. These cats have not been "doctored" and they are producing more cats, which in turn produce still more cats; cats which have never seen the outdoors! Her kindness to these poor creatures is misplaced. Her nose must be numb. What can be done?

HER FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: Both the Department of Public Health and the Humane Society should be called to investigate the living quarters of your friend. And a mental examination is very much in order for her. She has a "good" heart, but I fear the trouble is in her head, poor soul.

CONFIDENTIAL TO WORRIED MOTHER IN AUGUSTA, GA.: Don't worry. If an American serviceman wants to marry a Vietnamese girl, he must first obtain the permission of his commanding officer. His fiancée is then checked for security by the U.S. Embassy in Saigon. She must also be cleared by the Vietnamese police, which issues certificates of "good conduct" to approved prospective brides. A very small percentage of American G.I.'s actually marry native girls.

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

People Must Decide Reapportionment Method

THERE'S A reapportionment battle going on in Minnesota and sometimes we wonder just how aware the average citizen is of its importance and the "one man one vote" concept as ordered by the United States Supreme Court in 1962 and again in 1964.

Since the beginning of the Republic, the people of each state have had, as a matter of right, the power to determine the method of composition of their state legislatures. But now this right is in jeopardy and unless something is done about it, our legislature and all the others will be controlled by big city political and labor leaders.

Until the Supreme Court's incredible decision, most states followed the "federal plan" under which members of one legislative house are elected from districts based strictly on population, and members of the second house are elected from geographic areas. (Rhode Island, the smallest state, has two U.S. senators just as does New York or California, the biggest states.)

TO CONTEST the "one man one vote" theory, a bi-partisan "Committee for Government of the People" has been organized with Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois as chairman. Its function is to emphasize the necessity of letting the people of each state decide the manner of apportionment of their legislatures in the way that best meets the diverse needs of their states.

The committee says that by judicial decree, the federal system now in effect has been struck down and the traditional balance of one house based upon population apportionment and one house based upon area representation has been invalidated.

Sen. Dirksen makes an even stronger statement and one with which we strongly agree:

"If we apportion our states solely on the basis of population, the control of our states surely will be vested in the hands of the selfish few who can control the greatest blocks of votes within the few greatest cities, be they party functionaries, labor leaders or other self-servers who are in no way responsible to the will of the people."

"AND IF THESE political and big city labor leaders control the cities and the legislatures — with no option left to the people to correct abuses — then they will control the apportionment of congressional districts, the selection of delegates to our national political conventions, the exercise of election laws themselves, appointments by governors respectful of concentrated power, the functions of regulatory agencies, and the whole spectrum of state legislation, including taxation, welfare, banking, interest rates, labor law, housing, education, transportation and highways, marketing, utilities, water, air pollution, construction, public ownership, and a host of other subjects influencing every business, every farm, every jobholder and wage earner in this country."

"When the day arrives — as it surely will if the people are left no recourse in the composition of their legislatures — our long and largely successful struggle to rid our political system of political bossism will indeed be lost. And on that day, the Republic we love will be critically sick."

"THESE WOULD-BE bosses today champion the 'population only' cause. Why? Because behind its ring of fairness they see control of state legislatures falling into their hands. Yet these same 'champions' already say the people can't be trusted whenever many of us in the Congress say, let the people decide."

A bill is now pending in Congress which would prevent the situation which has so upset Sen. Dirksen.

SJR103 would require that in all states with two-house legislatures, members of one house must be elected from districts formed on a strict population, one man-one-vote basis and it permits geographical factors to be taken into consideration in determining the districts from which members of the other house will be elected — provided the voters of each state approve such an apportionment as an alternative to the strict population plan for both houses.

THIS NEWSPAPER vigorously supports such legislation not only for the state of Minnesota but for the federal government as well, for the Supreme Court decision could change the makeup of the U.S. Congress as well as the various state legislatures.

TODAY IN WORLD AFFAIRS

Neither Surprised Nor Discouraged

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The United States government is neither surprised nor discouraged by the initial reaction to its request that the United Nations intercede in the controversy over how to end the Viet Nam war. Nor is the Vatican being deterred in its effort to bring about a peace conference under U.N. auspices. The Rome radio repeats that it is a function and responsibility of the United Nations to enter the situation and bring about negotiations.

Even the reply from the North Vietnamese government in Hanoi that the proposal is "invalid" is not taken to be the last word. For, while the North Vietnamese foreign ministry declares that the governments which are designated as supervisors of the 1954 Geneva agreement are the ones to deal with the subject, this hardly excludes other governments from using their "good offices" to effect an agreement. The United Nations could arrange for a cease-fire and then urge the Geneva conference group itself to conduct the peace conference.

WHAT IS important today is that the United Nations take the initiative in setting into motion machinery for the consummation of an armistice, as was the case in Korea. The truce negotiations in Korea lasted nearly a year, but the war itself drifted into a lull. The same thing could happen in Viet Nam.

The biggest single influence that could motivate the U.N. would be the reaction of public opinion throughout the world. Certainly the United Nations was organized for the very purpose of delving into war situations and finding some machinery for the making of peace. If a war that has many international complications as the Viet Nam conflict is brushed aside as irrelevant just because some of the parties are not members of the United Nations, the influence of the international organization itself is likely to weaken steadily.

RED CHINA was not a member of the United Nations in 1950 when its forces crossed the 36th parallel into South Korea, but the United Nations took action just the same and sent an inter-Allied force of its own to repel aggression.

Today the United States has a substantial military force in Viet Nam, while its adversaries in North Viet Nam are being furnished munitions and supplies by both the Soviet Union and Red China.

Under the charter of the United Nations, the Security Council has the "primary responsibility for the maintenance of international peace and security." The U.N. charter says:

"THE SECURITY council shall determine the existence of any threat to the peace, breach of the peace, or act of aggression, and shall make recommendations, or decide what measures shall be taken... to maintain or restore international peace and security."

In another part of the charter, the Security Council is authorized to "call upon the parties concerned to comply with such provisional measures as it deems necessary or desirable." Thus, arrangements can be made for an armistice without necessarily involving the United Nations in the working out of peace terms.

Unfortunately, the Viet Nam war is not an isolated affair, and a settlement is not dependent merely upon the North or the South Vietnamese. It is the rivalry of Red China and the Soviet Union today for control of the North Vietnamese regime which is complicating the whole situation and causing the Hanoi government to hesitate to enter into a negotiation with the South Vietnamese.

THE PRESENCE in South Viet Nam of a large number of Communists who have infiltrated the area is also a dangerous factor and it is uncertain whether during an armistice the Communists guerrillas already in South Viet Nam would obey orders.

But despite these handicaps, the American government is determined to press first for a cease-fire and later for a negotiation. While official announcement has been made here that the bombing of targets in North Viet Nam will be resumed, it may be doubted whether any intensification of the war will materialize right away.

'SOMETIMES I WONDER WHOM MY SECONDS ARE SECONDING'

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Humphrey Praised for Good Work in Japan

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Some news diagnosticians have reported indifferent relations between the President and the vice president. Real fact, however, is that Lyndon Johnson, who knows what it's like to play No. 2 man, has gone out of his way to bring Hubert Humphrey in important discussions.

One illustration was Humphrey's mission to Japan and the Philippines which the President credits with reversing the hitherto sour Japanese relations toward the United States. They were so bad that the personally popular American ambassador, Edwin Reischauer, married to the daughter of a former Japanese premier, had been asked not to speak in public.

Here is the inside story of what the vice president did in Tokyo.

Before Humphrey went to Japan the State Department gave him a two-hour briefing, then summarized in one memo the peace proposals the United States had made regarding Viet Nam. The various proposals added up to 14 points. Humphrey was quite impressed with the document. President Johnson was a bit skeptical. "There's nothing new in that," he remarked.

"WHAT'S new is the fact that all our peace proposals have been put down in black and white and in order. Before, they were like spaghetti and meatballs," Hubert told him.

Conferring with Premier Sato in Tokyo, the vice president had the 14-point memo in his pocket but wasn't planning to show it to the Japanese. However, Premier Sato complained rather bitterly about the American position in Viet Nam and the bad reaction against the United States especially since our bombing of North Viet Nam. He said he was having trouble with his political opposition.

"I don't believe you realize how far we've gone to promote peace," the vice president told Sato. "I have in my pocket a list of all our peace points. We've held over 200 conversations with foreign governments trying to make clear our position. Let me read you this."

HUMPHREY read the 14-point memo to Sato. It included our willingness to negotiate under the Geneva treaty of 1954, previously spurned by John Foster Dulles, which provides for elections to decide whether North and South Viet Nam should unite.

Premier Sato was much impressed.

"Do I have your permission to make your position known to the Russians through my foreign minister when he goes to Moscow?" Sato asked.

"Not only do you have my permission," replied the vice president, "but I urge you to do so."

Sato asked if he could have a copy of the memo. Humphrey turned to Ambassador Reischauer and Jack Valenti of the White House staff. They saw no objection. Several copies were made and Premier Sato had his press secretary read all 14 points to the Japanese newspapermen. There were big headlines the next day. Editorial reaction from Japan since that time indicates that the tide previously very critical of the United States has been turning.

IT TOOK the Viet Nam war to develop the helicopter as an arm of the military, and it took the big blizzard of '66 to highlight the helicopter as a means of local transportation.

With highways blocked, local copter companies were deluged with business. The Washington-Baltimore Helicopter Airways even got a call from a farmer near Leesburg, Va., wanting a helicopter sent to carry him from his home over the drifts to his barn.

Radio and TV stations used copters to pick up personnel and bring them to work. Police commandeered the copters to direct the unblocking of choked highways. Marooned on our Maryland farm, I finally got a copter to fly Mrs. P. and me into Washington. It took only 15 minutes to cover 20 miles to the National Airport, but one hour by taxi to go five miles from the airport to our Washington home.

What the public doesn't realize is that the government gives heavy subsidies to the big aircraft companies in developing new planes. The Boeing 707 was built only after the Air Force had spent around a billion dollars on the KC-135, which later became the 707.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Writer Not Well
Informed on Renewal
To the Editor:

I don't claim to be well informed about the hot issue of urban renewal, but it surely does seem to me that James Mullen has put forth the best letter to the Editor in a long time. He is educated, informed and looking for the democratic way of handling the situation.

Why should the government take care of a few businessmen who will not fix their places of business? We certainly have many enterprising businessmen who have taken care of their own places and didn't ask the government to solve their problems.

I know this idea may not be sound in the eyes of the City Council, but how about a switch in the tax setup? The businessmen who fix their property should get their taxes lowered and raise the taxes on the big landowner who never does a thing to improve his property.

How come there is so much talk about this issue and so few letters written to the paper?

Michael Lee
722 Wilson St.

(Editor's Note: No urban renewal funds are available to fix up any individual's building. Public money is used only to acquire property and clear off substandard construction. Rebuilding is done by purchasers of cleared sites. No matter how much a city might wish to encourage improvement by tax concessions, it is prohibited by state law. State and county governments also collect real estate taxes, so these governmental units would be affected by such policies, as much as, or more than the city.)

Wants Referendum
On Urban Renewal
To the Editor:

On March 16, 1965, I attended a City Council meeting. At this meeting, it was decided, by council action, that the referendum voted on two weeks earlier, was to be taken away from the people. The people were told a referendum would be held, after the planning surveys and marketability studies were completed. We were told such advisories can only be conducted by the city, in conjunction with a regular election, and an attorney general's opinion in support of this position was introduced.

According to the Daily News, which I am referring to, these statements were made: City Attorney George Robertson says he believes the city does have power to conduct an advisory vote. "As far as I am able to determine, you may."

In Editor's Note, under public pulse of March 4, 1965.

"According to the City Attorney, the City Council has power to call a special election at any time it wishes."

Mayor Ellings — prior to election — "It is my position that no urban renewal should be done until the plan has been discussed, debated and approved by a majority of voters in a referendum."

Mr. Briesath says he favors waiting for results of studies, with reviews by Planning Commission, Council, WHRA and the people, then conducting the advisory vote.

Mr. A. Royal Thern, Citizens' Committee — "If a vote is postponed, assurance should be given that it actually will be held later."

Dr. W. O. Finkenburg, Housing Authority, says, "A poll of members recommended the removing of referendum from ballot at present."

In view of all these statements, I am asking the City Attorney, the Mayor and Council to give us the referendum we were promised, or they will be guilty of deceiving the people and breaking a public trust.

If the officials of Winona break their word to the people I have a suggestion. I am offering $25 to a citizen's committee, to consult a Minnesota attorney (outside city of Winona) for a legal opinion on the legality of a referendum in Winona. Are there 10 other concerned people in this city of 26,000, who believe in good, honest government, and want an opinion now?

Why Turn Down for Insurance?

By J. G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: My husband is 50 and has been turned down several times for insurance because of his blood pressure. The doctor says everyone's goes up and down, but according to the insurance company, this was abnormal. Can you explain? — MRS. R. J.

It's true that blood pressure fluctuates, and some perfectly healthy people develop rather high pressures when under emotional strain, including the nervousness of going to the doctor, or having an insurance examination.

Insurance companies are aware of this, but they still have to establish certain general criteria for evaluating risks. Most of them do not have a hard fast figure for blood pressure.

RATHER, THE decision is made on a combination of considerations: Age, weight, past history, pulse rate, build and even heredity.

This is something to be kept in mind, not just for insurance examinations, but whenever your doctor begins to be concerned about your blood pressure. Don't expect him to give you a pill that will make everything all right. It isn't that simple. (He may, of course, prescribe medication to help the situation.)

BUT DO PAY attention when he urges you to lose some weight, get a little more exercise, stop letting your work or other responsibilities drive you too incessantly, take a vacation, get more sleep, stop drinking so much, or otherwise tackle some of the conditions which are making you a "poor risk."

Some people pay too much attention to the figures denoting blood pressure, and not enough to other indications of their degree of health.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is a plain water enema every day harmful? — MRS. E. D.

Yes, because your system of elimination doesn't need a daily enema. It's something like asking, "Is it harmful to whip a horse every time I drive him?" After a time the horse won't move at all unless whipped. Better get back to letting the horse — or your elimination — work naturally. This can be done by establishing more regular bowel habits, increased water intake and providing more bulk in the diet.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have a grandson 3 years old. His daddy scolds, shames and punishes him for wetting the bed, but at the same time allows him to have several glasses of juice after 6 p.m. Can a 3-year-old be expected to keep a dry bed? What should they do? — H. R.

Scolding, shaming and punishment are not effective cures. And certainly a child with this trouble should not have too much fluid in the last few hours before he goes to bed. It makes his problem more difficult.

Church Window Symbols Topic At St. Paul's

A study of symbols in church windows, illustrated with color slides, was given by Mrs. Harold Richter at the Wednesday afternoon meeting of Episcopal Churchwomen of St. Paul's Church.

"Christian symbols form the sign language of our faith," said Mrs. Richter. "The system of symbolic teaching among early Christians was expedient because many people could not read. The symbols were understood by the faithful, but had no meaning to the persecutors of the early church."

Some of the symbols shown and explained were the cross and crown, the standing lamb with banner, the sheep, pansies and carnations, the phoenix, descending dove and the sacred monograms.

Mrs. Richter closed with the thought, "As windows can be beautiful when the sunlight pours through them, so human life can be radiant and rich with Christian grace when the light of Jesus Christ shines through."

Mrs. C. R. Kollofski, president, announced several upcoming events. World Day of Prayer will be held at St. Paul's Church Feb. 25. A bake sale and coffee hour is planned for the last Sunday of the month. The spring rummage sale will be April 28. She mentioned that an afternoon study group will be formed and asked that anyone interested notify her.

MISS MARY JANNA PAPER'S engagement to Lt. Leonard C. Myrah, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lorentz Myrah, Spring Grove, Minn., is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Augustus Paper, Knoxville, Tenn. The wedding will be Feb. 19 at Knoxville. The bride-elect was graduated from the University of Georgia and is employed by the Glynn County Board of Education, Brunswick, Ga. Her fiancé is a graduate of Luther College, Decorah, Iowa, and is an instructor in the Naval Air Technical Training Command, Glynnco, Ga.

AAUW Education Study Group to Meet Monday

The Education Study Group of Winona Branch, American Association of University Women, meet at the home of Mrs. Donald Holmberg, 119 E. Broadway Monday, at 7:30 p.m.

The topic for the evening discussion is "Project Head Start." Members of the group will report from current readings on the purposes and existing programs in this pre-school education program.

Mrs. Ronald Graver, a graduate assistant at Winona State College, will discuss the Head Start program in Leavenworth, Kan., in which she participated during 1965. Dr. Carroll Hopf, curriculum coordinator for the Winona Public Schools, will discuss briefly plans to begin a pre-school education program in Winona.

The Education Study Group has as its theme for the biennium, "Education: An Antidote to Poverty." The group plans to make a study of library facilities in Winona at its March meeting.

Chairman of the group is Miss Mary Young. Implementation chairman for the study theme is Mrs. John Breitlow. Members interested in attending the discussion may call Miss Young.

Jefferson School Girl Scouts Hold Investiture Program

Junior Girl Scout Troop 634 of Jefferson School held an investiture and re-dedication ceremony for their mothers on Tuesday.

A display of talents included a cello trio by Diane Buswell, Julie Luke and Susan Olness; a quartet — Lisa Brown, Debbie Nickles, Sandy Anderson and Susan Becker, singing "Jacob's Ladder," and a violin solo by Anita Holz.

All of the girls did two folk dances taught them by their College of Saint Teresa assistant, Miss Margaret Schultz. A candlelight ceremony followed in which their leader, Mrs. R. C. Becker, invested and rededicated the girls.

Mrs. Charles G. Brown Jr., neighborhood chairman, and Mrs. Richard Vanguten, troop organizer, presented five-year numerals to Mrs. Robert Nickles and Miss Margaret Schultz and presented a World Association Pin to Mrs. Becker. Valentine decorations trimmed the refreshment table where cake, coffee and punch

Who's New Club Cosmetic Party Set

A cosmetic demonstration will be given by representatives of Watkins Products, Inc. when the Who's New Club meets at the YWCA Tuesday at 7:45 p.m.

Those attending will participate by applying make-up under the supervision of the representatives. Lunch will be served.

All new residents of the Winona area are invited to attend. Reservations for those not contacted by telephone may be made by calling the YWCA.

Central Methodist WSCS Sees Film 'Almost Neighbors'

A thought-provoking film, "Almost Neighbors," was shown Wednesday at the Central Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service meeting.

It dealt with violence and rioting, both in Bolivia and a town in the United States, and showed how persons should deal with such situations. Following the picture, the group was divided for a discussion period.

MISS ARLIS Voorhees, a Winona State College student and a member of the church choir, sang "How Great Thou Art." Devotions were led by Mrs. Donald Doumas. Mrs. Ralph Hubbard had charge of the program.

Mrs. P. Earl Schwab, presided at the business meeting, which was opened with prayer by Mrs. Gordon Ferguson, spiritual life secretary. It was announced that 252 yards of material, thread and needles have been sent to the Vietnamese refugees. This was a combined project of the WSCS and the Wesleyan Service Guild. Pajamas and mittens made by the sewing group for the Minnesota Indian Children were displayed.

PLANS for the "Abloom For Spring" style show and luncheon Feb. 19 at 1 p.m. were announced by Mrs. E. A. Streeter, chairman. Mrs. R. H. Mourning, chairman of Christian world missions, reported that the World Day of Prayer will be Feb. 25 at 2 p.m. in St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

Preceding the meeting, dessert was served by the unit for the month, headed by Mrs. Howard Johnson and Mrs. K. Ostrander.

were served by the troop committee; Mrs. Nickles, chairman; Mrs. Jack Brugger and Mrs. Harvey Ganong.

Miss Krizek

Miss Krizek Marries Grad Of St. Mary's

CHATFIELD, Minn. — Miss Elizabeth Ellen Krizek and William Roger Harwood, were married Jan. 29 in St. Robert's Catholic Church, Shorewood, Wis. The bride's cousin, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John T. Donovan, performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester F. Krizek, Milwaukee. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Harwood, Chatfield.

The bride wore a gown of silk satin, fashioned with a bateau neckline. The train and neckline had floral designs of pearl and crystal bead embroidery, accented with pearls. While touring Europe, she purchased her rose-point, lace mantilla in Brussels, Belgium.

MISS KATHARINE Krizek was her sister's maid of honor. The bridesmaids were the bride's sister, Mrs. Paul Slater, and Mrs. Thomas J. Krizek, both of Shaker Heights, Ohio, and Mrs. Peter Hansen and Miss Barbara Tuttle, both of Milwaukee. The brides wore gowns of red velvet bodices and white brocade bell skirts. Their gowns were designed with scoop necklines and long sleeves and they wore red velvet bows for headpieces.

Serving as best man was the groom's brother, Donald Harwood, New York City. The ushers were another brother, David Harwood, Chatfield, and Robert Schuetz, Robert Silah, Timothy Sullivan, Richard Cibula and Wayne Billings, all of Milwaukee.

The bride attended the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee, and was graduated from Prospect Hall Secretarial School for Girls. Her husband is a graduate of St. Mary's College, Winona, and did graduate work at Marquette University and University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee. He is a teacher and coach at Dominican High School, Whitefish Bay, Wis.

After a ski trip in Northern Michigan, the couple will live in Milwaukee.

La Leche League To Meet Tuesday

LA CRESCENT, Minn. (Special) — La Leche League will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Earl Schlafge, 511 2nd St. S. Mrs. John Fuchsel will be co-hostess.

There will be a discussion on the topic, "Breastfeeding and Overcoming Difficulties." All interested mothers and mothers-to-be are welcome. Mrs. Schlafge said.

Fort Perrot DAR Names Delegates To Meetings

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special) — When members of Fort Perrot Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. R. E. Mossberg, delegates and alternates were named to the 75th diamond jubilee Continental Congress at Washington, D.C., in April and to the state conference at Milwaukee, March 13-15.

Delegate and alternate to the Washington meeting are Mrs. C. A. Brye, Eltrick, and Miss Edith Bartlett. Mrs. Mary Senty was elected a delegate to the state conference, with Miss Bartlett and Mrs. John Kopp alternates.

ANNOUNCEMENT was made of the DAR Good Citizen chosen by the Trempealeau High School. She is Karen Kriesel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Kriesel. Karen, a senior at the Trempealeau School, was chosen by her classmates and the faculty. She will be presented a Good Citizen pin by the Galesville Chapter. Fort Perrot Chapter also will present pins to the Good Citizen girls at Gale-Eltrick and Whitehall High Schools. Mrs. Delbert Pickering, Town of Caledonia, is chairman of the project.

A box of clothing was assembled by the chapter women for the Indians at Indian Mission near Black River Falls, Wis. The box will be delivered by Mrs. Mabel Anderson, regent, and Mrs. Byre.

Mrs. Kopp, chairman of national defense, read excerpts from the National Defense magazine. The sum of $5 was voted to "Dollars for Defense."

AS A CURRENT events topic, Mrs. Carolyn Wadleigh reported on the protest by Mrs. Walter Klewin, regent of Rochelle, Ill. Chapter DAR on the use of the stars and stripes as home and dress decorations. Mrs. Klewin believes that we are cheapening the "red, white and blue," and losing reverence for our country, our flag, and for many American traditions.

"Mrs. Lincoln's Hat" was the topic presented by Mrs. Ruby Jegi. Mrs. Delbert Pickering displayed a "roller organ," patented in 1887 and made by the G. H. W. Bates Co. of Boston Mass. About the size of a large typewriter, the organ has a bellows at the rear, and padded "fingers" that play the notes from wooden rollers equipped with metal pins. The organ has about 35 rollers and plays hymns, waltzes and jigs, when wound with a handle. Mrs. Pickering did not know how the instrument came into the family. It had been the property of her husband's mother, who had had the organ since childhood. Some of the rollers were dated 1885.

Rare Birds Found Here

Discovery of two pine grosbeak specimens, birds from the far north seldom seen in this area, was reported to members of the Hiawatha Valley Bird Club of Winona at its meeting Wednesday evening at Lake Park Lodge.

The birds, which presumably died during the recent subzero weather, were found in the deer compound at Latch Prairie Island Park this week. It was a first-time listing of this species in the immediate Winona area.

Club members noted that pine grosbeaks migrate southward to the central United States only rarely during the cold winter months. They're described as stragglers, or occasional visitors, and are not to be confused with the evening grosbeaks which are regular transients into this area and are in abundance here this winter.

After a buffet supper, club members were shown slides of birds and wild flowers taken by William Draskowski, Mrs. Harvey Gordon and Miss Frances Dickerson, Winona; Miss Pauline Wersholen, Pickwick, and Dr. D. G. Mahle, Wabasha, Minn.

Miss Wersholen's pictures were of thousands of nesting gannets on the rocky ledges of Bonaventure Island in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Photographs of local birds were taken at winter feeders or in summer nesting areas.

Prizes were won by Miss Dorothy Leicht, Mrs. F. F. Martin, Otto Gadow, Miss Margaret Voelker, Mrs. Karl Lipsohn and Leroy Fuller, the latter of Wabasha. Winners in quizzes on bird lore included Mrs. Gadow, Dr. Mahle and William Hollingsworth, Stockton. About 40 attended the meeting.

The club's monthly field trip to be led by president Francis Voelker is scheduled to begin Sunday at 1:30 p.m. at Lake Park Lodge.

Americanism

Liberty, as proclaimed by law and constitutions, can never have full meaning without the added ingredients of Fraternity and Brotherhood; without the spirit of friendliness and unselfishness... love for one's fellow. Those powerful qualifying attributes help spell out what Americanism is.

When one sees a family unit, parents and children, with Bibles in hand, attending church to worship as they please... then one is witnessing Liberty in its finest and most fullsome forms; for that, too, is American. Freedom of religious worship is equally important, along with economic freedom and freedom from oppression, in America. Then worship God as you please but be sure to worship... that is Americanism.

Area EUB Churches Plan Mission

The local Evangelical United Brethren Church, 455 S. Baker St., will unite with other EUB churches in the area in a simultaneous evangelistic preaching mission and Bible study Sunday through Thursday.

The Rev. Edward Steven, Mankato EUB Church, will be the speaker here. Services will be Sunday at 9 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. and each evening at 7:30.

Rev. Stevens was born in St. Paul, where he attended elementary school and high school. He also attended Bethel College, St. Paul, North Central College, Naperville, Ill., and the Evangelical Theological Seminary, Naperville.

Before going to Mankato, he served as pastor at Luverne, Minn. and Sargent, Minn.

Each day the guest speakers and the local ministers will meet at Homestead Memorial Church, Rochester, to prepare themselves through Bible study, discussion, and prayer for the total outreach of the program.

Group leader for this area is the Rev. Dale Wordelman, pastor of the Eyota United Church, and the group director is the Rev. Carlton Bauer, pastor of the Spring Valley Evangelical United Brethren and Congregational churches.

The public is invited to attend the services.

Bethel Course Begun at Blair

BLAIR, Wis. (Special) — The Zion Lutheran Church has started the teacher-training phase of the Bethel Bible Study Series.

Eight teachers trainees of the congregation were installed at regular worship services Sunday: Leland Chenoweth, Mrs. L. H. Jacobson, Roger Halverson, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Johnson, Mrs. Robert Scharlau, Mrs. Robert Hoff and Mrs. Leon Halpern.

Training of the teachers consists of a disciplined, two-year study of the Bible, under the leadership of the Zion pastor, the Rev. L. H. Jacobson, and the Bethel series staff. In addition to reading the Bible, they will be asked to memorize over 650 Biblical concepts.

In addition to this, the trainees will be asked to do outside reading concerning the historical background of parts of the Biblical narrative and various interpretations of certain passages of the Bible.

Upon completion of the two-year study, the eight trainees will begin teaching the Bible to the adult members of the congregation.

Missouri Synod Lutherans Picked For New Council

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A branch of Lutheranism centered in the Midwest today appeared destined for a powerful role in an area of interdenominational cooperation which it had once shunned.

This became evident as the 48-year-old National Lutheran Council acted to close its existence, prior to the launching of a new, broader organization of inter-Lutheran teamwork.

Although the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod with headquarters in St. Louis, Mo., has never joined in work of the old council, the denomination was in line for a big share of leadership in the new one.

Of six top executive officers nominated so far to serve in the larger council, three of them are from the Missouri Synod church, including the chief administrator for the new council.

Men from the American Lutheran Church, with headquarters in Minneapolis, have been named for two executive posts, while one executive has been nominated from the largest body, the Lutheran Church in America, with headquarters in New York City.

It has 3,253,000 members, while the Missouri Synod is second in size among Lutheran bodies, with 2,745,000 members, and the Minneapolis-based church is third, with 2,587,000.

Both the Lutheran Church in America (LCA), and the American Lutheran Church (ALC) are long time members of the cooperative council, which is being terminated, but the Missouri Synod over the years has refrained from participation.

A long series of discussions eventuated in plans for the new inter-Lutheran organization, to be called the Lutheran Council of the United States, scheduled to be constituted at a convention next Jan. 1.

It will embrace 95 per cent of the nation's 9 million Lutherans.

Among the new officers nominated so far is The Rev. C. Thomas Spitz, Jr., of St. Louis, as the council's general secretary, its top executive post. He is a Missouri Synod churchman.

The Rev. Dr. Paul C. Empe, an LCA clergyman who has held the old council's top executive post for the last 18 years, is stepping aside from leadership in the new council, to take over administration of an American Committee of the Lutheran World Federation.

Mabel Lutherans Name Dr. Karli

MABEL, Minn. (Special) — Dr. Vernon A. Karli was elected to serve as president of Mabel First Lutheran Church council at the congregation's annual meeting. Roland Torgerson was elected vice president and Mrs. Clifford Johnson, secretary.

Mrs. Clarence Johnson, Mrs. Ingvald Sanden, Myron Forde, Harley Larson, Nansen Spande, Roland Torgerson, Elmer Brown were elected council members. Mrs. Roy Hermanson was named memorial fund treasurer and Goodwin Dahlen building fund treasurer. A budget of $37,910 was adopted for 1966.

In other action, the congregation gave approval to the pastor Bruce Boyce to investigate the development of religious instruction in conjunction with the other churches in the community and the public school.

On Jan. 31, the congregation approved building plans submitted for a parish education addition. Construction of the unit will not proceed until financing has been approved.

Lenten Services Set at Galesville

GALESVILLE, Wis. (Special) — Lenten services at the Galesville Presbyterian Church have been scheduled. The Rev. Robert M. C. Ward, pastor, will be one of five ministers participating.

Services and speakers are: Feb. 23, Rev. Ward; March 2, the Rev. Leonard Beenen, La Crosse; March 9, the Rev. Daniel Odil, Reedsburg; March 16, the Rev. Carl Carlson, Muscoda; March 23, the Rev. Louis Stoker, Richland Center, and March 30, Rev. Ward.

A Maundy Thursday Communion service will be conducted by Rev. Ward. He will conduct the Good Friday service at 1:30 p.m. On Easter Sunday, a sunrise service will be at 6:30 a.m., followed by a congregational breakfast at 7:45. The regular Easter morning service will be at 11.

Members will give to the Emergency Fund for Freedom with offerings in special envelopes Feb. 27. On March 20, special envelopes will be provided for the "One Great Hour of Sharing."

Christmas cards are being collected to be sent to missionaries in Japan for invalids and prisoners. They may be left at the church office. On Feb. 25, the World Day of Prayer will be observed at the church at 2 p.m. "You Are My Witnesses" will be the service theme.

Mrs. Robert Docken and Mrs. John Williamson Sr. are new deacons in the Galesville church. Memorial money from the Sunday school is being used to purchase hymnals for the primary department. The UPW has contributed $417 for ecumenical and national missions.

Singspiration Set Sunday at Nazarene Church

Adults and youths who like to sing and those who like to listen to singing are welcome to attend a Singspiration Sunday at 8:45 p.m. at the Church of the Nazarene, says the Rev. Phil Williams, host pastor. Features of this Singspiration, which is usually held once a month at one of the participating churches, are special musical numbers and choruses by various church members and a brief time of fellowship and refreshment.

How About a Bull Chase As Christmas Celebration?

MABEL, Minn. (Special) — In San Jose, Costa Rica, they celebrate Christmas, among other things, with a bull chase.

The Rev. and Mrs. Robert Johnson of Mabel who are stationed in San Jose, saw it in December. About 300 teenagers and four bulls were turned loose at the same time in a 200-foot ring in the center of the stadium with a 20-foot pool of water in the middle of that. Around the water was a 2½-foot pool.

THE IDEA was to escape the bull's charge, and generally the youths were able to do that. However, one youth was injured and others got a running lift into the pool. Altogether about a dozen had contact with the bulls.

"We never gave serious thought to joining in the fun," Johnson wrote.

HE AND his wife are studying Spanish. In August they will go to Angol, Chile, to teach agriculture. They will work in the Methodist mission at El Vergel.

As for Costa Rica they were "inspired when we learned about the new program of Christian witness in Costa Rica called Rural Goodwill Caravans, a joint effort of all Protestant groups," Johnson wrote. "Begun in 1962, they consist of doctors, dentists, agronomists, teachers, literacy worker, nurses, audio visual technicians and evangelists. By 1964 these teams spent a week in 17 different isolated rural communities. Even staff members of the U.S. Embassy in Costa Rica participated. Doctors estimated that 98 percent of the rural population suffers from intestinal parasites and malnutrition.

"CONTRARY to land tenure in most Latin American countries, most farmers work their own land. Nearly everyone in Latin America agrees that there cannot be political stability in their countries until significant agrarian reform and land distribution are achieved.

"Because there is no large army to thwart the will of the people, political democracy exists in Costa Rica. 'Also, this may be the reason why there is no communists there here.' The Johnsons have been working in a slum area near their home. They hope to get some promising youngsters in school when it starts again in March. Most need medical care for parasites and anemia first, however. They need a little financial assistance to buy school uniforms and shoes.

SIX SHORT-term Methodists going to Bolivia, who were at the language school last trimester entrusted the Johnsons with $205 for this work. A local doctor there has consented to help anyone interested in family planning for whatever they can afford to pay.

Rev. Johnson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard J. Johnson of Mabel. His wife is the former Joycelyn Onsgard, daughter of Mrs. Carlton Trehus, Spring Grove. They arrived in San Jose last August.

South Fork Shed Meeting Tuesday

CALEDONIA, Minn. — Preliminary surveys for flood control structures in the South Fork Watershed, Houston County, and their watershed benefits, will be discussed at a meeting Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. at the Yucatan Store.

Harlie Larson, Houston County extension soils agent, said changes in watershed laws have brought some size limitations of detention structures for water runoff.

According to the Watershed law farmers in the watershed who will be directly benefited by flood control structures may be assessed easement costs for structure site, local share of construction costs, and cost of maintaining the structure.

Local share of construction costs could be for recreational facilities, fish and wildlife developments, or any other local feature desired.

Mental Health Topic at Central Methodist Church

Beginning Sunday and continuing for the remainder of the month, "Health and the Whole Person," a series on mental health and emotional illness, will be studied from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. each Sunday in the new lounge in the basement of Central Methodist Guildhall. All interested post-high school age individuals are invited to attend.

These lessons will help adults understand the nature of emotional health and the power of trust, acceptance, and good relationships in maintaining emotional health. The nature of symptoms that reveal degrees of emotional illness, and the place of medicine, psychotherapy, and religion in treatment of emotional illness will be covered.

Adult Fellowship Series, Unit 6, entitled "Health and the Whole Person," by Robert Carrigan, assistant professor of pastoral care, Drew Theological School, Madison, N.J., from the February "Adult Student" publication, will be used as the basic study material. Each session will be led by an authority on the topic under consideration. Topics and discussion leaders are:

Sunday — "Emotional Health and Illness," led by Ben Hayenga, Margaret Simpson Home Family Service.

Feb. 13 — "Man: A Creature of One Piece," led by Dr. M. L. DeBolt, chairman, board of directors, Hiawatha Valley Mental Health Clinic.

Feb. 20 — "From the Almighty Cometh Healing," led by Beatrice Heyen, social worker, Paul Watkins Memorial Methodist Home.

Feb. 27 — "The Church and Emotional Health," led by the Rev. William Hiebert, assistant minister, Central Methodist Church.

They Cut Each Other, But Won't Bring Charges

A couple who resorted to knives to settle an argument Thursday night today refuse to press charges against one another. Police Chief James W. McCabe said.

The man, who was not identified, walked into the Sportsman's Tap, 252 E. 3rd St., Thursday at 9:19 p.m. Blood was streaming from a cut on his temple. When the bartender called police, the man walked out of the bar, Chief McCabe said.

However, patrolmen found him in an alley directly across the street, just east of Franklin Street between 3rd and 4th streets.

The man told the patrolmen that he and his girl friend had had a quarrel. Police found the woman had been cut, too, and both were taken to Community Memorial Hospital, where it was found that an artery in the man's head had been cut.

Neither man nor woman was in danger today, the chief said, and the police investigation was continuing. He declined to reveal the names.

Damage $500 in Car-Truck Crash

A car-truck collision Thursday morning at the junction of CSA 37 and County 108 was reported today by Sheriff George L. Fort. More than $500 damage resulted.

Sheriff's deputies who investigated reported that Mrs. William L. Heim St. Charles Rt. 2, was driving south down a slippery grade on CSA 37 and Marvin L. Kieffer, St. Charles, was driving east on County 108 when the collision occurred about 9:55 a.m.

A high snow bank obscured the drivers' vision of each other, the report said. Kieffer brought his truck to a stop when he saw the Heim car approaching, but Mrs. Heim was unable to stop. Her station wagon slid 22 feet into the left rear of the Kieffer truck.

Damage was to the gasoline tank of the truck and about $500 worth to the front and left front of the Heim car.

Coin Changer Theft Unsuccessful at Lanesboro Laundry

LANESBORO, Minn. (Special)—An attempt at larceny was made at the Lanesboro automatic laundry sometime Wednesday night but the would-be thief or thieves were unsuccessful in getting a coin machine from the wall or getting it open, according to Fillmore County Sheriff Neil Haugerud.

The damage was reported by Lorne Randall, operator, Thursday morning.

Deputy Elmer Worden investigated the breaking of two windows in two cars in Lanesboro last Saturday night. The vehicles were parked outside the owners' homes.

Winona Deaths

Mrs. Louis Grablander, 65, 1063 W. 5th St., died at 11:45 p.m. Thursday in Community Memorial Hospital after an illness of several months.

The former Erna Clara Weimer, she was born here Aug. 12, 1900, to Henry and Clara Sehler Weimer and was a lifelong resident. She was a member of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church and its Women's Club, Circle 2 and Sewing Guild.

Survivors are: Her husband; three brothers, Edward, Sun City, Ariz., and Henry and Carl, Winona, and four sisters, Mrs. William (Lenora) Haedtke, Lewiston; Mrs. Harrie (Carlyn) Wolverson, Colorado Springs, Colo.; Mrs. Evan (Clara) Davies, Goodview, and Miss Margaret Wiemer, Winona. A son, Roger, died in 1939.

Funeral services will be Monday at 2 p.m. at St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, the Rev. A. L. Mennicke officiating. Burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery. Friends may call at Breilow Funeral Home from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday and at the church Monday after 1 p.m. A memorial is being arranged.

Winona Funerals

Mrs. Frances Matejka
Funeral services for Mrs. Frances Matejka, 469 E. 3rd St., were held today at St. John's Catholic Church, the Rev. Daniel Dernek, Rochester, a great-nephew, officiating. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery. Pallbearers were Ervin Bubelitz, J. J. Abel, Vincent Suchomel, Frank Chupita, Herbert Bohn and Neil Goltz.

Youth Receives Stay of Sentence

Judge Arnold Hatfield stayed execution of a 10-year reformatory sentence for a 21-year-old South Dakota youth today in District Court.

The judge put John E. Dallen, Hot Springs, S.D., on probation after imposing sentence on the check forgery charge. Dallen had pleaded guilty to Dec. 15. Dallen's sentence to the St. Cloud Reformatory was stayed in order to put the youth on probation.

He had pleaded guilty to a charge of forging the signature "J. E. Faber" to a $28.70 check here Sept. 15. Dallen had shared a hotel room with Faber between Sept. 10 and 15.

Assistant County Attorney Richard H. Darby represented the state at today's sentencing, and court-appointed Attorney Harold J. Libera represented Dallen.

Speeding Trial Set Wednesday

Judge John D. McGill heard a not guilty plea to a speeding charge and granted dismissal in a disorderly conduct case today in municipal court.

The judge also ordered bond forfeited on a stop sign charge.

Keith E. Kunze Austin Minn. pleaded not guilty to a charge of speeding 45 m.p.h. in a 30 zone on West Broadway from Grand to John streets Thursday at 11:25 p.m. Judge McGill set trial for Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. and ordered Kunze to post $25 bond which he did.

The disorderly conduct charge against Donald F. Kan, 34, 868 E. Sanborn St., was ordered dismissed on the motion of City Prosecutor James "W. Soderberg, Soderberg told Judge McGill that there is insufficient evidence to warrant prosecution in the matter.

Kan was accused of disorderly conduct by fighting at East 3rd and Walnut streets Jan. 27 at 2:08 a.m. He was scheduled to stand trial today.

Diane B. Kutt, 20, Arcadia, Wis., forfeited $10 bond on a charge of going through a stop sign at Gilmore Avenue and Miracle Mall Thursday at 5:50 p.m.

Plane Kills Phoenix Boy

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A twin-engine plane smashed into a group of homes Thursday, killing a 2-year-old boy and two occupants of the plane and injuring seven other persons.

The pilot was identified as Hal Haines of Phoenix. His body and that of a woman passenger were recovered from the wreckage. Authorities today were attempting to identify the woman.

The dead boy was Michael Muniz, whose family lived in one of the wrecked homes, which are near Sky Harbor Airport.

The plane, a Lockheed Neptune known during World War II as a P2V, was making an approach to the airport when it dipped into the South Phoenix neighborhood, slicing through three houses and coming to rest on a fourth, demolishing it.

Witnesses said the plane's right engine was on fire as it made its approach.

More Below Readings Seen Next Five Days

A moderately cold weekend is predicted for Winona and vicinity by the Weather Bureau.

In fact, the bureau forecast temperatures averaging 5 to 8 —17, one of the colder days of the winter. All-time high for Feb. 4 was 53 in 1890 and the low —26 in 1893. Mean for the past 24 hours was 10. Normal for this day is 17.

A BLAST of cold air sent temperatures at Roseau, in the northwest corner of the state, down to —34 for the lowest reading in the state and nation. Bemidji was next with a minimum of —31.

Elsewhere across the north country readings were far below the zero mark with —29 at International Falls, —21 at Brainerd, —18 at St. Cloud, and —12 at Duluth.

Rochester had a low of —13 this morning after a Thursday afternoon high of 17 above and La Crosse posted figures ranging from —3 to 26 above.

Fargo, N.D., reported snow and a morning low of —16.

Subzero weather returned to WISCONSIN today but the latest cold wave was described as weak. A warming trend was expected during the weekend.

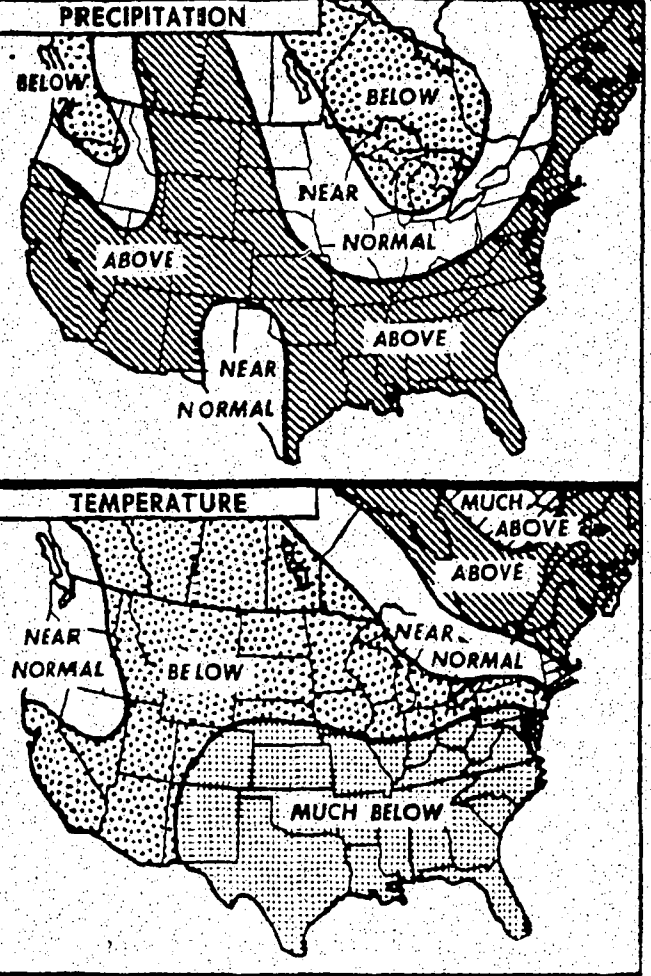

Superior set the state low of 15 below zero early today. Eau Claire had —10, Park Falls —3 and Wausau —1. Lone Rock had a low of 2 above zero. Pewaukee, Madison and Beloit 5, Racine, Milwaukee and Burlington 8 and Green Bay 9.

Maximum readings Thursday ranged from 30 at Racine to 15 at Superior.

Some light snow flurries accompanied the cold front into Wisconsin, but only a trace of new snow was on the ground today.

Skies cleared after the cold front passed through.

The high of 72 Thursday was set at Miami, Fla., and Thermal, Calif.

30-DAY FORECAST... The U.S. Weather Bureau reported that the Upper Midwest will have near normal precipitation and below normal temperatures for the next 30 days. (AP Photofax)

Weather

EXTENDED FORECAST

MINNESOTA — Saturday through Wednesday temperatures will average 5-8 degrees below normal. The normal high is 15-20 north and 2-26 south. The normal low is 1 below zero to 8 below north, and 1 below to 7 above south. It will be a little warmer over the weekend, with scattered snow flurries Saturday but no precipitation of consequence expected.

Hog Barn Burns Near Rushford

RUSHFORD, Minn. (Special)—Fire destroyed a hog barn on the Arvid Kjos farm 11 miles west of here on North Prairie Thursday night.

Of the 17 pigs inside, all were saved except for one brood sow and two little pigs.

Mr. and Mrs. Kjos, en route home from choir practice at North Prairie Lutheran Church at 9:15 p.m., were within one-quarter mile from home when they saw the flames.

They believe a spark from the coal and wood heater inside may have ignited the roof.

Both Rushford and Lanesboro fire departments were called, but Lanesboro department apparently got the wrong direction and arrived at Highland. They came later; by then the fire was under control.

Rushford firemen stayed on hand until about 1 a.m. to protect nearby farm buildings. The Kjoses and neighbors served coffee to the fire fighters.

Blue Chippers Stronger in Slower Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Selected blue chips picked up some strength early this afternoon as the stock market recovery continued on a moderate basis.

Dealings were considerably slower than Thursday, reflecting usual preweekend caution as well as hesitancy concerning the market prospects.

Gains of most key stocks went from fractions to a point or so. A few of the higher-priced, more volatile issues showed wider gains in the morning but many of these were clipped back as the session wore on.

On the downside, Boeing was conspicuous with a 4-point loss.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .5 at 364.4 with industrials up .6, rails up .3 and utilities up .3.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.73 at 882.96.

Prices were generally higher in active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged in light trading.

Addington Challenged Again

Gary Addington, captain of the Winona High School basketball team, has had to live up to his title the hard way. And so far this season, the rugged 6-2 guard has thrived on it.

"He's been taking all the leading scorers at forward all year long," said John Kenney, coach of the Winhawks. "He's learned to handle some pretty good kids."

And Addington will run into another "pretty good" one tonight when Fairbault invades the Winhawk lair for an 8 p.m. encounter that counts toward the Big Nine standings.

Although the Falcons have won only one game in 11 starts this year, none in six tries in the conference, they aren't without a standout. Carrying the Fairbault legion during most of the season has been 6-2 junior forward Todd Andrews, the conference's second leading scorer.

This is the fellow whom Addington will be assigned to shadow in the Hawks' man-to-man defense, a defense that has held 12 foes to an average of only 57 points-per-game.

And while Gary is keeping an eye on Andrews, the rest of the Hawk starting five is healthy and ready to do his part. Both center Paul Plachecki and forward John Walski have fully recovered from minor leg difficulties. Don Hazelton has shaken off the bug that slowed him last weekend, and Larry Larson is his usual durable self.

Kenny will go with this five at the opening toss, but he adds, "I'd like to think we could get some of the other kids in the game. At least I hope we can. But about the time you think that, you have to fight for your life.

"These kind of games don't worry you, but you wonder whether they're a sleeper and about ready to break loose."

On paper, the Hawk have to rate a lopsided edge. (Continued on Page 15)

Just Another "Big" One

Sausser Clicks In 27 Points, Redmen Win

By BOB DERENDAL
of St. Mary's College
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — The St. Mary's College basketball team — operating on the theory:

the more you score the more you like it — kicked its offense into high gear and rolled over Augsburg's defending champions 89-81 here Thursday night.

The win snapped a three-game Redmen losing streak and moved St. Mary's out of the MIAC cellar.

But the victory didn't come easily despite the fact that the Redmen shot a torrid 52 percent from the field. The simple reason for the tightness of the score was an Augsburg attack that clicked for 50 percent.

THE TWO teams battled each other on even terms for the first 20 minutes with the biggest lead a 23-23 margin held by St. Mary's with 7:05 to play in the half after Jim Buffo's short jumper and Jerry Sausser's free throw.

But that was short-lived as the Auggies stormed back to tie it 28-28 with 5:15 remaining. The teams traded baskets for the remainder of the half with Sausser lifting St. Mary's into a 40-40 halftime tie on a jump shot from the top of the circle with two seconds to go before intermission.

The two teams were so even in the first half that not only was the score tied, but both hit 15 field goals, both made 10 of 13 charity shots and each had nine fouls.

THE SECOND half began as a repeat of the first, the bouncing ball of fortune favoring first team and then the other.

Then, with 15:30 left in the game, the Redmen began to take command. Buffo clicked on a short jumper to tie the score and Rog Pytlewski gunned home a medium range jumper, which Tom Keenan followed with a driving layup. That made the score 52-48.

From there, the margin saw-sawed, but St. Mary's never gave up the lead. In fact, the Redmen built it up to an eight-point margin when, at 6:08, Pytlewski tossed in a free throw to make it 72-64.

The Auggies did come back to cut the margin to 78-73 on a jump shot by Bob Kelly at 4:10. But then Kelly — the Augsburg big gun with 15 points — picked up his fifth foul and also was assessed a technical.

Pytlewski hit the two free throws to stretch the margin back to seven.

Dick Kelley then rifled home two long jumpers to close it to 80-77 with 2:55 left.

But cheers and the expectations of the home crowd died when Pytlewski tossed in a jump shot and Sausser converted both tries on a one-and-one foul shot to make the score 84-77 with 2:34 left.

St. Mary's then went into a semi-stall that resulted in two easy layups for Pytlewski and a free throw by Tom Keenan to clinch the victory.

With the referees calling a total of 23 second-half fouls, 17 of those on Augsburg including the technical, it was at the (Continued on Page 15)

Wichita Is Right Where Coach Hoped

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"As far as I'm concerned I'll keep saying we're going to win it until we're mathematically eliminated."

That's what Gary Thompson, coach of the Wichita Wheatshockers, said before the college basketball season opened last Dec. 1.

Hardly anyone took him seriously, yet today Wichita is perched in first place in the tough Missouri Valley Conference. The Shockers gained the top rung by defeating Drake 96-81 before 11,010 at Wichita, Kan., Thursday night.

Wichita won the MVC title last season despite the loss of All-America Dave Stallworth by graduation at midyear. Bradley was the preseason favorite to win the MVC this season, but Thompson refused to concede.

Jamie Thompson, Melvin Reed and Kelly Pete, three returnees from last year's club, and sophomore Warren Armstrong sparked Wichita over Drake for the Shockers' 10th victory in 15 games including a 4-2 MVC mark.

Thompson scored 26 points, Reed 20, Pete 19 and Armstrong 15 as well as grabbing 13 rebounds. Their fast break and full-court press put the Shockers ahead to stay after the first five minutes. Harold Jeter's 24 points led the Bulldogs who played without 6-foot-8 Bob Netolicky recently declared ineligible.

The game was the feature of a slim Thursday program which saw none of the Top Ten teams in The Associated Press poll in action.

Home-court victories were registered by North Carolina over Wake Forest 115-87, Clemson over Furman 107-72, Virginia over Virginia Tech 79-65, Georgetown, D.C., over George Washington 103-74, San Jose over Santa Clara 74-69 and Morehead over Marshall 94-79.

TUFF STATES NEEDED PARTS NOT HERE YET

Ernie Tuff, the Rushford speed merchant who annually makes a trip to Daytona, Fla., for the NASCAR modified and sportsman type car championship, said today that the needed parts for his racer have not yet arrived from California and North Carolina.

"We're going to have to start tracing them down," said Tuff. "Sometimes they get lost in shipping."

Tuf will take his auto to Florida for the Feb. 26 race which this year has been stretched from 250 miles to 300 miles. A year ago, with Larry Frank driving, the auto sped to third place in the classic.

State Fights For 2nd Spot

Winona State College battling for second place in the Northern Intercollegiate Conference race?

Right now that is a fact, just as is the Warriors' 4-2 league beginning that has surprised even coach Bob Campbell.

Saturday Winona faces one of its key battles in a drive that — with a little luck — could net it second place.

The Statesmen play at Mankato Saturday night, and both teams rest their league case at 4-2.

"Bemidji only has two losses also," points out Campbell. "But right now, as far as we are concerned, this is the game for second place."

And Campbell probably is right since Bemidji tonight must play St. Cloud, the conference favorite.

Assuming the Huskies beat the Beavers, a win could put Winona in the runner-up spot.

The Warriors are fresh from a two-game sweep on a northern swing that took them to Moorhead and Bemidji last weekend, and Campbell hopes the road streak continues.

"It's a new experience for me," he said of the fact that three of the four Winona loop wins have come on the road. "But whatever it is, I like it."

Mankato in an earlier stop at Memorial Hall took a 67-58 win. But Moorhead also won the first engagement between the two teams (66-61) and the Warriors rebounded with a win the second time around.

Is this game, then, more important than the two last weekend?

"It is of about the same importance," said Campbell. "And we're going to have to do the same type of job we did up north. Our defense has to be a key factor and also our defensive rebounding."

"If we can do the job on the boards like we did at Moorhead and Bemidji and play the same type of sticky defense, we'll be in business."

In line with those statements, Campbell will do nothing to adjust his starting lineup or his northern game plan that saw the first five play most of the way in the two wins.

"Naturally, the game will dictate whether or not we substitute," said the coach. "But as long as our first five can do the job, we're not going to foul things up by substituting. I anticipate they'll be able to go the route."

The five iron men last week were forwards Gary Petersen and Tim Anderson, center Mike Jerecek and guards Dave Meisner and Rick Starzecki.

In fact, the only other Warrior to see action on the trip was 6-5 freshman, Chip Schwartz.

Schwartz filled in and did play a key rebounding role on the northern swing.

"He again will be in reserve for additional rebounding strength," said Campbell.

The only physical problem which must concern the States is the condition of Gary Petersen's bothersome knee.

"It's still troubling him some," said Campbell. "But he has been resting it. We gave everyone Wednesday off. We think the rest will help all of them. We feel Pete will be ready, but for how long is going to have to depend on the knee."

So the Warriors, off to their best league start in recent years, now try to pull the turnaround on Mankato. The prize, most likely, is immediate possession of second place with three loop games to play.

NOT WHEN 54 HOLES REMAIN AHEAD

Margin Is No Consolation

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Led by Harold Kneece, a personable young man with the nickname of Calfish, the unheralded professionals of golf continued to dominate the $100,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic as play resumed today.

But the 31-year-old Kneece, from Aiken, S.C., and his friends in the front ranks could remember one important point.

There are still 54 holes to be played in this five-day, 80-hole tournament. And such fellows as Arnold Palmer, Bill Casper Jr., and Ken Venturi could make up a lot of ground in the three remaining rounds.

Kneece, whose nickname stems from his boyhood, when he loved to fish, leads the field by four strokes with successive rounds of 68 for 136.

Tied up at 140 as the third round began were Jack McGowan, with 68-74; R. H. Sikes, 70-70 and Jack Rule, 72-68.

Palmer, with 71-70, was tied at 141 with six other players but his morale may suffer without a distinguished supporter.

That would be former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who took personal command of Arnie and his Army Thursday at the Eldorado Country Club.

The Eisenhowers are wintering at their home overlooking the golf course and Ike followed Palmer for nine holes.

The general, in one of his first appearances in public since his recent heart attack, looked thin but healthy. He wore brown slacks and matching sports jacket and a saucy straw hat, with a feather tacked in the ribbon.

Ike walked all but one of the nine holes — the long, par-5, No. 13 when he climbed into his golf cart — and frequently conversed with Palmer, apparently about Classic strategy.

The general and Palmer had the situation under control for the nine holes they toured together, leaving Palmer two under par. But when Ike left, Palmer was forced to make a truce with par on the other nine.

Casper, the 1965 Hope winner, slipped to a 73 and was tied at 142 with among others, Al Gelberger and Doug Sanders.

Kneece, who has been on the PGA circuit since 1960, has never won a tournament. But in each of the first two rounds here, he required only 20 putts, and in the second round, playing Indiana Wells, he had only one biggy.

ARENA AT MET

RIVERMEN FACE 2 MAJOR FOES WITHIN 8 DAYS

Can Anyone Budge Alma From Top?

By BOB JUNGHANS
Daily News Writer

Alma, a team that no one has been able to budge from the top spot since the first Winona Daily News basketball ratings, faces its last two major tests of the regular season within the next eight days.

The Rivermen travel outside the West Central Conference and the state of Wisconsin tonight to battle with highly-touted Austin Peabody at the Shamrocks gym in Hornelltown. And then a week from tonight Alma faces its toughest conference opponent, Fairchild, ranked seventh on this week's list.

IF THE Rivermen get by these two, it should be a downhill slide toward their second consecutive undefeated regular season. At present, Alma has a string of 40 straight regular season victories under its belt. Kenyon held on to the No. 2 spot this week, while Preston rebounded from its lone loss of the season with a decisive victory and moved up to the No. 3 rung.

Onalaska Luther, the third undefeated team in the area, holds down the fourth spot, while Wabasha, which suffered its only loss last week at the hands of Rochester Lourdes, dropped one position to fifth.

The chief casualties in the Top 10 this week were Hayfield and Wyckoff. Hayfield was handed its second loss of the season by Pine Island and dropped from fifth to ninth, while Wyckoff, since beating Preston, has had its troubles. The Wyckats barely got by Spring Grove by one point and then took a 26-point drubbing at the hands of Lanesboro. They fell from eighth to 16th in the ratings.

ELEVA - STRUM, getting stronger with each outing, jumped three spots to the No. 6 position on the strength of its 11-2 record. The Cardinals have won five in a row since twin losses in holiday tournament action. Fairchild held the seventh spot with its seventh consecutive victory last week, while Onalaska moved up two notches to eighth. Houston, an off-and-on member of the top 10 all season, regained a berth at the No. 10 position.

One quirk in the ratings finds Bangor, the top Coulee Conference team with a 10-0 record, rated 12th, four notches below Onalaska, the team that is second in the Coulee with a 9-1 mark. But the two teams square off at Onalaska tonight to settle that problem.

Several other games pitting rated teams against each other are set for this weekend, and in most cases, they will decide conference titles.

Preston goes against oncoming Chaffield on the Gophers' home court. Chaffield has boosted its season record to 9-4 with six straight victories and is currently the No. 14 team in the area. At stake will be the Maple Leaf Conference crown.

HAYFIELD attempts to get back on the winning track against Byron tonight, but Saturday night the showdown for the Wasioja Conference championship is slated on the Vikings' court when Wanamingo invades.

Wanamingo has won six in a row, holds a 10-2 season mark and is currently rated 11th. The two teams are tied for the Wasioja lead.

Fairchild takes on Arkansasaw, one of the casualties in this week's standings. The Travelers

Helen Nelson Smashes 620

It is getting so you expect Helen Nelson to clip a 700 series any day now.

Helen, who last year won the women's average championship with a 177 for Poot's in the Hal-Rod City League, made a 620 series her latest kegling achievement.

She belted that total for Winona Insurance in the Hal-Rod Powder Puff League behind games of 214, 221 and 185 Thursday night.

THAT RANKS in second place on the city listings behind a 634 that Marge Moravec totaled on Jan. 20.

It was Winona's seventh women's national honor count of the current season and Mrs. Nelson's third.

She earlier shot 610, and 607 and also has a 595 that ranks in a three-way tie for eighth place.

If it hadn't been for a missed six pin in the final frame of her third game, Helen probably could have taken over the series lead and etched her name well up on the all-time city listings.

She went into the tenth frame with 176 showing, hit nine pins on her first toss and then missed the six.

"I tightened up," she said. "Everything was going real well until the last five frames of my third game. Then I guess I got nervous. I couldn't hit the head pin or I crossed over."

Going into last night, Helen carried a 174 average in the Powder Puff, her best mark in three leagues. She has a 172 average for Poot's in the City loop and 169 for Watkins Mary King in the Westgate Pin Topplers League.

IN OTHER ACTION in the league, Berns Souvenir Shop tipped 945-2,603 for team honors and Mary Monahan and Dennis Groth hit 519 and 505, respectively.

In men's leagues about town Thursday, a pair of 621 series took honors.

In the Classic League at Westgate Bowl, Jerry Dureske

smashed 235-172-214-621 to pace his Hot Fish Shop team to 2-844. Clark — Clark Insurance whipped 1,032 and Ralph Hardtke of Rollingstone Lumber bounced 176-191-177-544 errorless.

Don Pellow's 621 pushed Weaver and Sons to 1,066-2,768 at Winona Athletic Club. Ralph Cierninski totaled 241-601 in the Knights of Columbus League and Lloyd Walling belted 610 for his first career 600.

The Eagles League at Hal-Rod saw John Sherman whip 189-194-224-607 for West End Greenhouses. John Sandstede's 246 shoved Winona Insurance to 983-2,835. Warner & Swasey Office also totaled 983.

WESTGATE BOWL: Keglerette — Kay Theurer's 525 series paced Jerry's Auto Sales to 2,543. Judy Mertes bounced 209 to pace Sammy's Pizza Palace to 908.

Pin Drops — Carole Gardner's 191-506 led Randall's to 873-2,589 and within a game of league-leading Sportsman's and Lake Center Switch.

Bay State — Blockbusters counted 2,723 behind 577 from Pete Cummings. Fran Hengel topped 215 for Old Docs and Bouncers ripped 987.

WINONA AC: Ladies — Shirley Kauphusman rattled 180-480 for Lantern Cafe. Koehler Body Shop came up with 856 and Winona Knitters 2,492. Vera Bell converted the 5-3-10, Joan Happel the 3-7 and Marie Potratz the 3-5-57.

GRIFITH WINS
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Welterweight champion Emile Griffith scored a unanimous 10-round decision Thursday night over 10th-ranked U.S. junior middleweight Johnny Brooks.

Sovereign, Meyer and Don Kulkowski got the four Peerless hits off loser Rog Czaplewski, who struck out three but walked 18.

Winner Tom Kulas gave up a double and home run to Jim Ahrens and singles to Czaplewski and Max Singer. Kulas fanned nine and walked five.

Mets Novelty? You Doggone Right They Are

NEW YORK (AP) — Donald Grant, chairman of the board of the New York Mets, testified Thursday that Milwaukee became a poor baseball town when the novelty wore off.

"Is your team a novelty in New York?" asked Willard Stalford, Wisconsin state counsel in cross-examination.

"It sure as hell is," replied Grant.

On that note, the New York phase of the pretrial maneuvering in Wisconsin's antitrust suit against the Braves and the National League ended.

They were to resume taking depositions in Chicago today, with Roy Hofheinz of the Houston Astros next in line.

Grant said he considered baseball dead in Milwaukee at present but later in the testimony said he would view future expansion in 1967, or later, with an open mind.

"They were only interested in the game when it was new and while it (the club) was on the top," Grant said under direct examination by Bowie Kuhn, special counsel for baseball.

"In 1964 they made a Herculean effort to sell baseball but the figure reached only 910,000," Grant said. "It was the straw that broke the camel's back."

Grant said the pros and cons of Milwaukee's situation had been discussed unofficially in league circles as early as late 1963 but the projected move to Atlanta was not brought up officially until August 1964.

Wisconsin is trying to halt the move of the Braves to Atlanta unless the National League expands and puts another team in Milwaukee.

Grant said it was his personal opinion that "the performance of the people (state of Wisconsin) including litigation can't help but hurt the chances of getting a franchise by forcing it down the throat of baseball."

The trial is supposed to open Feb. 28 at Milwaukee after more depositions are taken in Chicago and Milwaukee.

Lion Gridders Secret Meet Latest Mark

DETROIT (AP) — The long winter of discontent in pro football has taken another stormy turn with the revelation that members of the Detroit Lions have held a secret meeting with an eye toward getting $2 million in increased salaries and bonuses.

William Clay Ford, owner of the National Football League club, acknowledged that veteran players had met recently with a Teamsters Union member on hand, and had reached agreement on the $2-million figure before deciding to let the issue drop.

Ford, however, emphasized that "it all has blown over."

Still it is another indication of growing discontent among veteran players in both professional leagues over the lucrative contracts being handed out to rookies.

Last month former St. Louis Coach Wally Lemm confirmed that veteran players on the NFL's Cardinals had held a similar meeting while linebacker Nick Buoniconti of the American League's Boston Patriots publicly discussed player dissatisfaction over the huge bonus trend.

Ford, meanwhile, was asked to confirm a report that the Lions had held such a meeting. When he did, he was asked if the demands included a reported $300,000 in increased salaries.

"That was a low estimate," said Ford. "It was $1.75 shy of the mark."

"As I understand it, they (the players) decided there was no reason to make such a demand and it all has blown over. I have been told there is no reason for me to worry about this."

Ford said he didn't know why a Teamsters official had been at the meeting "unless whoever organized the meeting thought it would be beneficial to have somebody with collective bargaining experience there."

Ford's comments came after two local reports — by executive sports editor George Puscas of the Detroit Free Press and sports director Bob Reynolds of radio station WJR. Reynolds said that 14 "disgruntled veterans" had met. He also said:

"The group, dissatisfied with the high money being paid out to untried rookies and draft choices, held a discussion and wanted, as a group, to enter into legal agreement among themselves to go to the Lions management and ask for $300,000 in bonus money this year, above and beyond their salaries, to be paid to the group."

"It's reported several of the players backed off from this, questioning the legality of the move. It was obvious that dissatisfaction with Gilder was evident and that the veteran group was highly critical of the front office."

Receiver Gail Goddill, meanwhile, was quoted as criticizing Coach Harry Gilder at a Wednesday night speaking engagement, saying if the Lions' rookie coach returned next year he "might be the only one who does."

Cogdill denied making the statements, although two reporters who attended the function at which Cogdill spoke said he had been quoted correctly.

Huskies to Open Crucial 2-Game Trip at Bemidji

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
St. Cloud State opens a two-game weekend road trip tonight that likely will give the Huskies a good idea of how tough things are going to be for them in the Northern Intercollegiate Conference basketball race.

St. Cloud, leading the NIC with a 2-0 record, plays at Bemidji State (3-2) tonight and at Moorhead State (2-3) Saturday night.

The St. Cloud-Bemidji tussle is the only cage game on tap tonight for state teams.

WBA Tourney Opens Saturday, Champs to Wait

Defending champions in all divisions of the Winona Bowling Association city tournament will have at least a week to sit back and cool their heels while others make a run for top money.

The city tournament opens Saturday on Winona Athletic Club's six alleys, but the first 1965 tilt won't make a pitch for repeat honors until a week from Saturday, Feb. 12.

On that day 1965's handicap team division, Dan and Mark's Tavern of Fountain City, will try to duplicate last year's effort when it posted a 3,009 series to capture the crown.

From then on defending champs will follow in profusion in attempts to do what few have ever done in local kegling circles, become two-time winners.

One-hundred-eighty-six teams are entered in the tournament, with the first six taking the alleys at 3 p.m. Saturday. The 6:30 p.m. shift on Feb. 17 will mark the end of the team competition. On the same night at 9 p.m., the doubles and singles firing begins. By the time it's all over on March 1, 281 doubles team, 562 singles bowlers and 488 all events competitors will have taken their shot at the Athletic Club maples.

Shifts on Saturday will be at 3 p.m., 6:30 p.m. and 9 p.m., while Sunday six teams will take to the lanes at 12:30 p.m., 3 p.m., 6:30 p.m. and 9 p.m.

Last year, Dan and Mark's fired its 3,009 on the very first shift of the tournament at Westgate Bowl and then sweated its way to the championship as all others fell short.

Hotel Winona, the scratch team champion with an even 2,800 last year, will follow Dan and Mark's by exactly 24 hours in this year's competition, firing on the 3 p.m. shift on Sunday, Feb. 13.

The first individual champion to test his tournament prowess will be last year's handicap all-events king Dr. John Alampi. The good doctor, who ripped off a 1,952 total a year ago, will be rolling at 9 p.m. Feb. 18.

Bob Thurley and Paul Mracek will combine in an attempt to repeat as handicap double champs on the following day at 3 p.m. Last year their 1,313 won that division. And the next night at 6:30 p.m., Dewey Grossell will put his handicap singles crown, won with a 713 total in 1965, on the line.

Paul Plait Jr., winner of two titles a year ago, will be in action at 6:30 p.m. Feb. 22. Plait combined with Hal Joswick for the scratch doubles title on a 1,242 series and then went on to win the scratch all-events hardware with a 1,795 total. Plait and Joswick will once again be partners on that 6:30 p.m. shift.

The last champion to get his shot at the hardware will be Ed Kauphusman, last year's scratch singles titlist with a 647. Kauphusman goes into action on the next to last day of the tournament, Feb. 28, at 9 p.m.

Clarence Bell, secretary of the Winona Bowling Association, indicates that some teams are short bowlers. Anyone who is not already entered in the tournament can contact Bell with the possibility that he can place them on a team.

The tournament will open at 2:45 p.m. Saturday with a short opening ceremony.

State's Calvert—Swimming Super-Star

—Immediate Success Leads to Career—

By BOB JUNGHANS
Daily News Sports Writer

Larry Calvert looks like any normal 19-year-old, not much different from any of thousands of college freshmen throughout the United States.

And he isn't — except in one respect.

"I guess you'd have to call him a super star," said Winona State swimming coach John Martin about the Fort Dodge, Iowa, native.

And Martin doesn't use that terminology loosely. For in his short stay at Winona State, Calvert has already topped a pair of swimming records and his times in practice are good enough to place him high in national competition.

"I wanted to make a name for myself in something, and also get a college education. I thought the two might go together," says Calvert of his aquatic ability.

As a grade-schooler at Fort Dodge, Calvert paddled around as most young boys do, not much caring how fast he went or what stroke he used. But when he became a freshman at Fort Dodge Senior High School, his attitude began to change.

"I decided to go out for swimming, and I had some success my first year, so I decided to stay with it," he said.

And stick with it he did. He became adept at swimming all four competitive strokes — possibly too adept. His high school coach had Larry swimming in nearly every event possible, usually pitting him against the strongest swimmers on the opposing team. Records he set in the 200 and 400-yard freestyles, butterfly, 160 and 200-yard individual medley and backstroke still stand as Mason City schoolboy records. He also swam on both record-setting relay teams.

"But I didn't get a chance to specialize, and I think it's very important to specialize," said Calvert. "I think that was one of the reasons I didn't do very well in the state meets."

But Martin convinced Larry to come to Winona State to unleash his swimming prowess on the college front, and since then he has primarily been a freestyler. But Martin couldn't let Calvert's multi-stroke ability go to waste, so Larry also bolsters the Warrior individual medley crew. He set a new 200-yard IM record Wednesday of 2:10.2.

And it's in that individual medley where Calvert is setting his highest goals.

"I'd like to win the 400-yard IM in the (NAA) nationals," Calvert said. "My times right now are good enough to place me second in last year's nationals. And I haven't swam against any competition yet, so that should help."

Calvert's best time in practice for the 400 is 4:48. That is 12 seconds off the national record, a mark he hopes eventually to better.

Although Calvert talks freely of his own accomplishments and what he hopes to accomplish in the future, he also has swimming and all swimmers' interests at heart.

"Swimming is a very exacting sport," he said. "There is an exact place for your arms, an exact place for your head and so on."

"Rusty Garst (an ex-national swimming champion who lives in Fort Dodge) has helped me more than anyone. He has so many theories on swimming it's almost unbelievable. During Christmas I went home and he took some underwater pictures of my strokes. You can't imagine the things you can see that you don't know you're doing. After seeing pictures of them you can sort of visualize them and correct them while you're swimming."

Larry also played football while in high school until a knee injury halted his grid career. Now his athletic abilities are usually spent swimming and playing tennis.

"Swimming is something you can use all your life," he said. "Football is something you can do just while you're in school, usually."

But his outspoken approach toward the aquatic sport won't be wasted on an occasional jaunt to the nearest lake or pool after Larry's intercollegiate career is over. He will hold a double major in physical education and health education from Winona State. His post-college goal is to become a swimming coach.

Calvert and the rest of the powerful Winona State tank team will be in action Saturday at the Memorial Hall Pool for a 2 p.m. meet with St. Thomas. The Warriors will be seeking their sixth straight dual meet victory.

Winona High School also has swimming on its sports schedule this weekend. Tonight the Winhawks are at Austin in an attempt to duplicate an earlier victory over the Packers, and Saturday they are home for a 2 p.m. meet with St. Louis Park.

Wrestling and hockey are also both in the spotlight.

Winona High's wrestling team goes up against the powerful Faribault squad tonight in an 8 p.m. clash in the Falcon City, while Winona State waits until Saturday before traveling to LaCrosse for a quadrangular or triple dual. If Winona State wins all three of its meets at LaCrosse, it will push the Warriors' season record to 14-0.

St. Mary's hockey squad, in quest of its third straight MIAC title, has a pair of games slated. Today the Redmen are in St. Paul for a meeting with Concordia at Aldrich Arena. The game got underway at 5 p.m. Saturday coach Tim McNeill leads his skaters to Collegeville, Minn., to clash with St. John's.

MILWAUKEE ISSUE

Eckert Isn't A Magician

NEW YORK (AP) — "I wish I had some magic and know-how to come up with a plan to satisfy Milwaukee and keep baseball out of courts."

That is what William D. Eckert, the new baseball commissioner, said Thursday in acknowledging he can see no compromise plan in time to forestall a Feb. 28 Milwaukee trial of a lawsuit against the Braves.

I have been in touch with all the parties interested in the Milwaukee situation and I'm available," Eckert said, "but the matter is not in my hands now. It is in court until the situation is settled."

The former Air Force general, who took over as commissioner last Nov. 18, said he was strongly in favor of expansion but emphasized such a program had to be worked out on a sound basis.

"Do I consider it a league matter?" he asked, anticipating a question. "It's obviously a league matter but it's also a matter for the commissioner. Anything pertaining to baseball is the commissioner's concern, the way I view it."

Milwaukee interests, faced with the prospect of losing the Braves to Atlanta, applied for another National League franchise last December. The request was denied.

"I don't think we can put a team in Milwaukee this year," Eckert declared. "In fact, I don't see how we can have expansion in the next year or so without diluting the present clubs. After all, we've had 25 per cent expansion in the last few years and I think that's quite something."

Gophers Open Series With North Dakota

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The annual four-game Minnesota-North Dakota "Bedlam" hockey series opens tonight at Grand Forks with the Sioux needing a sweep of the two-game set this weekend to assure keeping pace with Western Collegiate Hockey Association leader Michigan Tech.

After games in Grand Forks tonight and Saturday, the teams play two more contests at Minneapolis Feb. 18 and 19.

North Dakota stands 10-4 in WCHA play to Tech's 9-3, while Minnesota is fourth with a 7-6 mark. Michigan is third at 7-3.

Tech entertains Minnesota-Duluth (6-9-1) at Houghton, Mich., tonight and Saturday, so UND must get past Minnesota or face the prospect of slipping back in the race, since Tech will be favored to sweep its pair with Duluth.

Other games this weekend have Michigan at Michigan State and Colorado College at Denver.

The Gophers and Sioux have met once before this year, with the Minnesotans claiming a 6-4 victory in the St. Paul Holiday Tournament. That one didn't count in the WCHA, however.

North Dakota has a 40-35-1 edge in the long rivalry between the Gophers and Sioux.

Terry Casey of North Dakota is the WCHA's top scorer with 26 points on 13 goals and 13 assists. Dennis Hextall of the Sioux is third with 24 points, while top Gophers are Chuck Norby and Gary Gambucci, tied with 20 points apiece.

Police Watch As Howe Gets His 20th Goal

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Bruins obviously weren't watching Gordie Howe as closely as the Boston Police Department.

Howe, the Detroit Red Wings' ageless star who is playing his 20th National Hockey League season, was watched by a cordon of police during Thursday night's game in Boston Garden after he had received a threatening letter.

The mail shook Howe up so badly that he only scored his 20th goal and assisted Alex Delvecchio's 30th career goal as the Red Wings moved into a first-place tie with the Chicago Blackhawks by whipping the Bruins 4-2.

In Thursday night's only other NHL game, Montreal rallied with two third-period goals for a 5-4 victory over Toronto.

Howe turned over the threatening letter to Detroit Manager-coach Sid Abel, who referred it to NHL President Clarence Campbell. That resulted in the police protection but no incidents developed.

On the ice, Howe reached the 20-goal plateau for the 17th consecutive season as Detroit scored a trio of first-period goals against Boston rookie Bernie Parent. He also set up Delvecchio's milestone goal, marking the sixth straight season the veteran Detroit center has hit 20.
